Paula,

These last three years have been Fantastic - I'm so glad I met you. You are a very special person - you understand where I'm coming From, and where I'm heading. I think you're the one person at school who I could be honestly me with and not worry about putting on faces and masks.

Thank you - for being yourself, and a very special friend. I wish you the best of luck next year and always.

Much love,
Jenny.

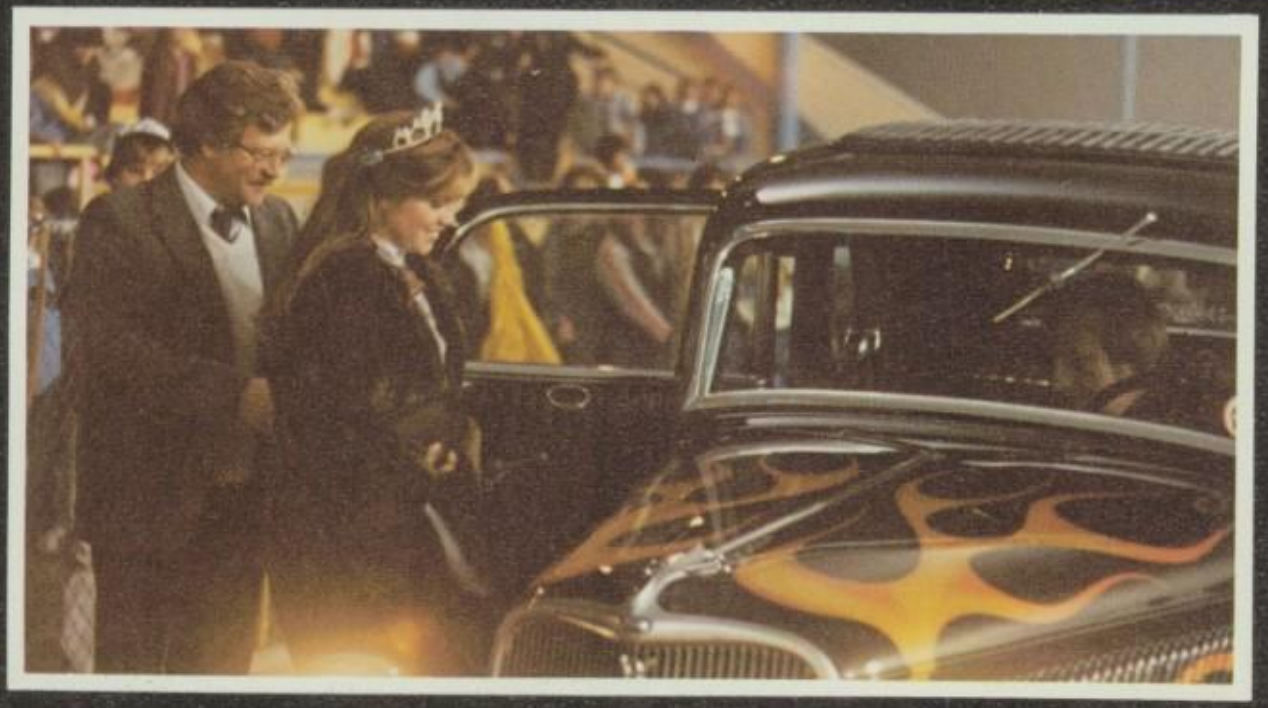
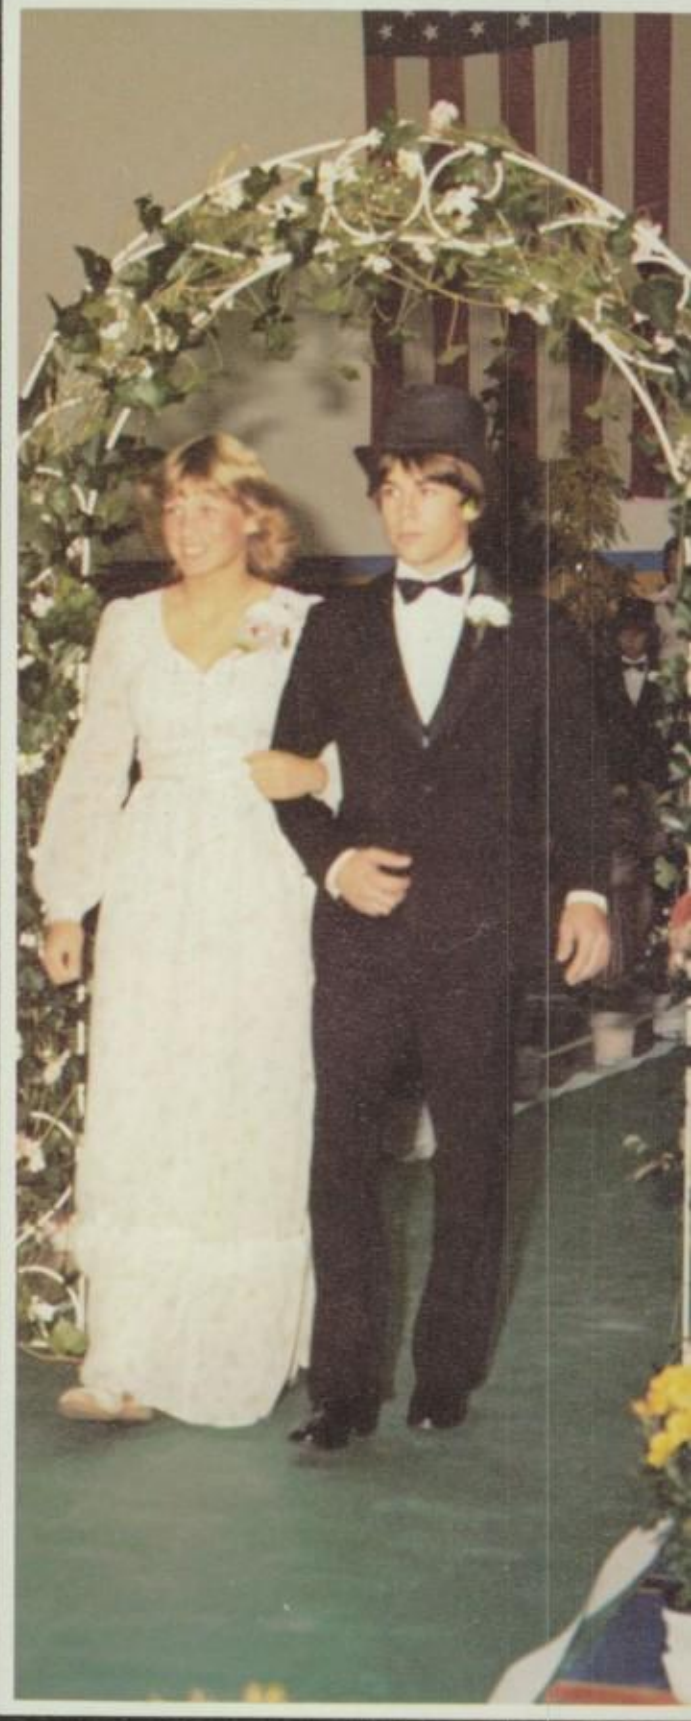
A Stroll Down Memory Lane





"A Stroll Down Memory Lane" was the theme for Homecoming 1981. The tremendous effort put into the planning and organization of the coronation assembly was well worth it. Homecoming was exceptional.

The atmosphere was that of hushed excitement. John Orlando and Kathleen Harrigan, this year's host and hostess, welcomed the student body and shared some thoughts on Homecoming. Before the finalists were brought out, Michelle Colvin sang "Won't Last A Day Without You". The host and hostess described the contributions to the school made by each of the girls and their escorts as they took their seats. The excitement grew as Rick Lindstrandt performed a song that he himself had written. And then . . . the princesses were slowly announced. One by one they were escorted through the arch and to their place in the court. There they were presented with a rose and a crown. The bleachers were silent as Mariner High School awaited the name of their queen. Kim Corrigan . . . the perfect choice. Taking the arm of her escort, Pat Hebert, she made her way to the reserved thrown. The crown bearers, Anne Wendt and Patric O'Brien, proudly brought her the crown.

Emotion welled up inside many in the audience as well as in the court. The coronation assembly was concluded with a duet by Stephanie Strom and James Cowan who sang "Endless Love."

After the ceremony a reception was held in the commons. People gathered to disucss the highlights of the assembly, take part in the refreshments, and to congratulate the 1981 court. Homecoming . . . a huge success.

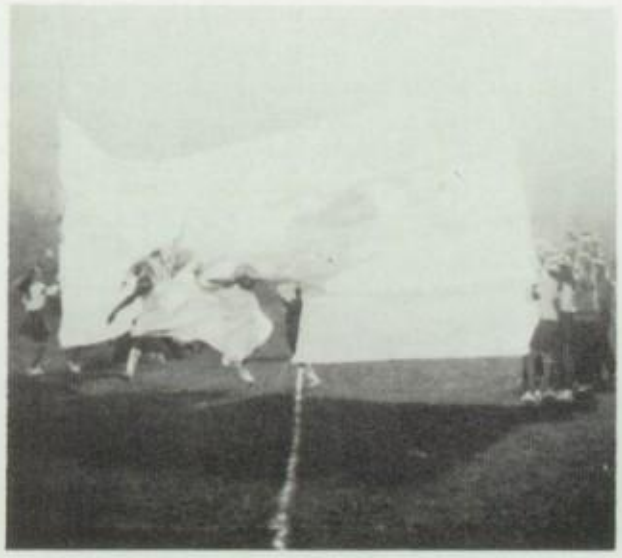
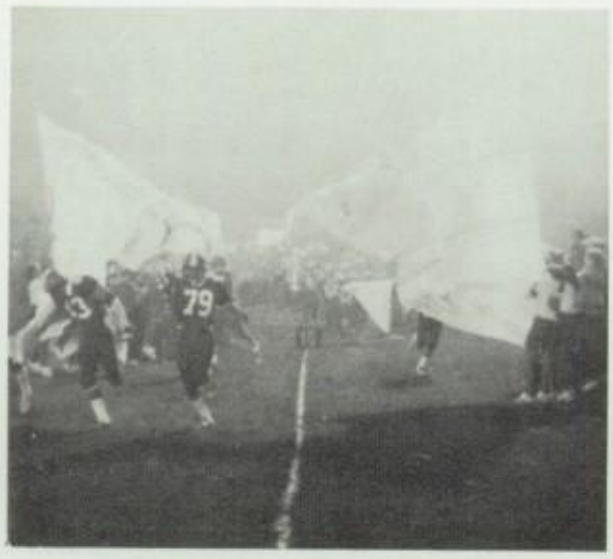
"A stroll Down Memory Lane" was a week long celebration which culminated with the Homecoming game against Everett. Besides the game and the coronation, other traditional activities took place.

Each day of the week students dressed according to a different theme. On Monday, people dressed in pairs (or, like Val Rarig, commemorated Pair Day by wearing a pear on their lapels). Tuesday was dress-up day for the coronation.

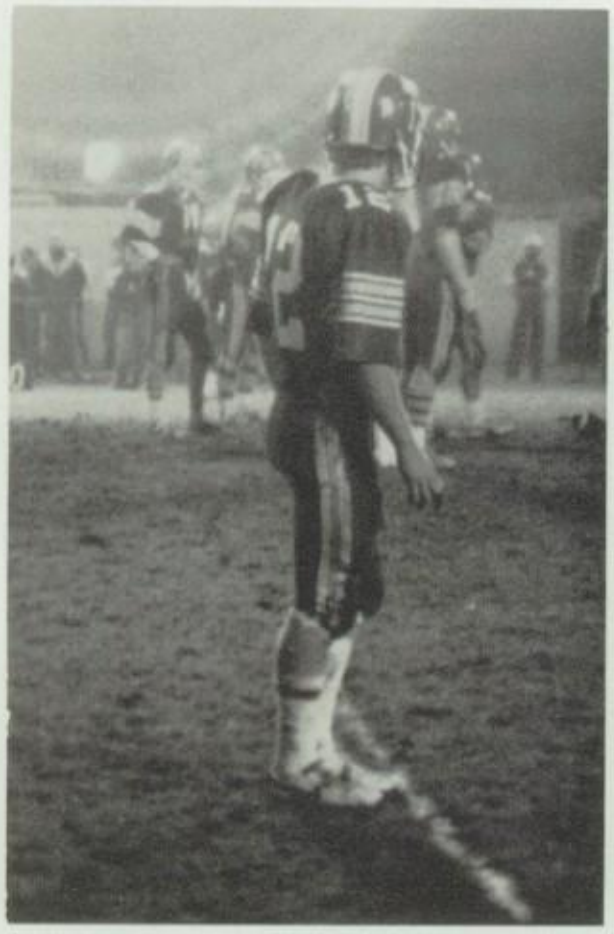
Wednesday was "Toga Day" creating a scene out of ancient Rome—or "Animal House." On Thursday, Pajama Day, even Ms. Simonson wore PJ's. Traditional Blue and Gold day led to the Friday pep assembly honoring the football team and coaches, and the Homecoming Court.

A heavy fog settled in on the football field that night as the Marauders dropped their game to the Seagulls, 27-7. After the game, the Junior Class sponsored the dance, Featuring the band "Airborne."





A year with bad breaks



The mighty Marauders weren't so mighty, ending the season with a 4-5 mark their wins being over Monroe, Lake Stevens, Lynnwood, and Marysville. The team was made up of many returning lettermen giving the team much talent. "We just never seemed to get off our feet." stated Chris Cassella. If a team never got a break in a crucial situation, it was this team. Time and time again the tide was turned the other way due to bad breaks.

Dave Martin and Tim Knauber led the Marauder's defense. This was the strongest aspect of the team. They shut down many teams from the run including 1st rank Snohomish Panthers. The offense was led by Dan Orcutt, Dave Blackham, and Chris Cassella. It was an offense with potential that just couldn't consistently move the ball down field.

For the seniors, it was a year of disappointment yet no player will ever be able to forget the fun and challenges the sport of football gave them.

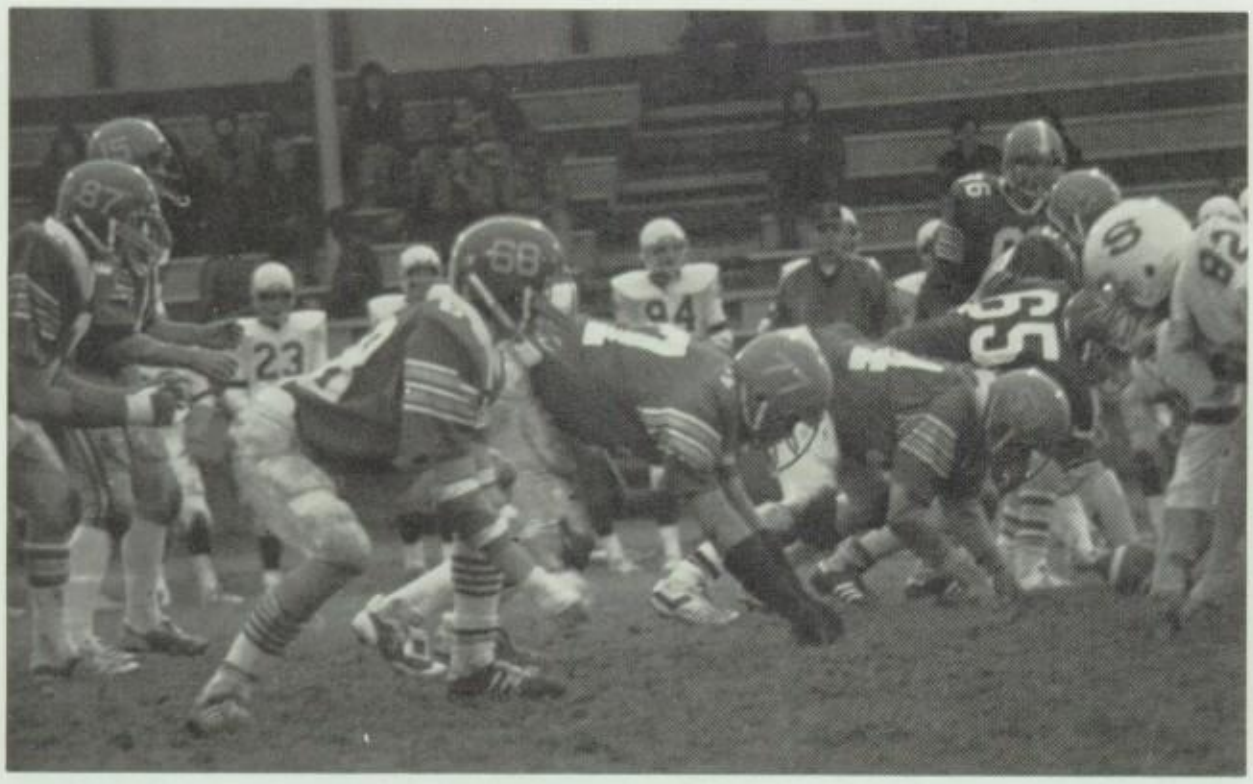
Underclass football reaches goals



The JV team completed an outstanding season finishing with a 5 win 1 loss record. Among these games was their 34-0 victory over Oak Harbor, and an exciting 12-8 win over Marysville, who players commented was the toughest team played.

Outstanding players included Dan Gray, Mike Rucker, Dan Martin, and Jon Stone. Team work and team spirit was the key to JV's success.

Team work held sophomores together as they finished their season with a 4-4 record of their 4 wins, soph's had a high scoring 24-6 win over Everett. Outstanding players included, Jeff Dire, Mike Garske, Mike Brown, and Tommy Mitchell.

Sophomores met their goal of achieving success through teamwork and have also set a future goal to become next year's outstanding varsity football team.

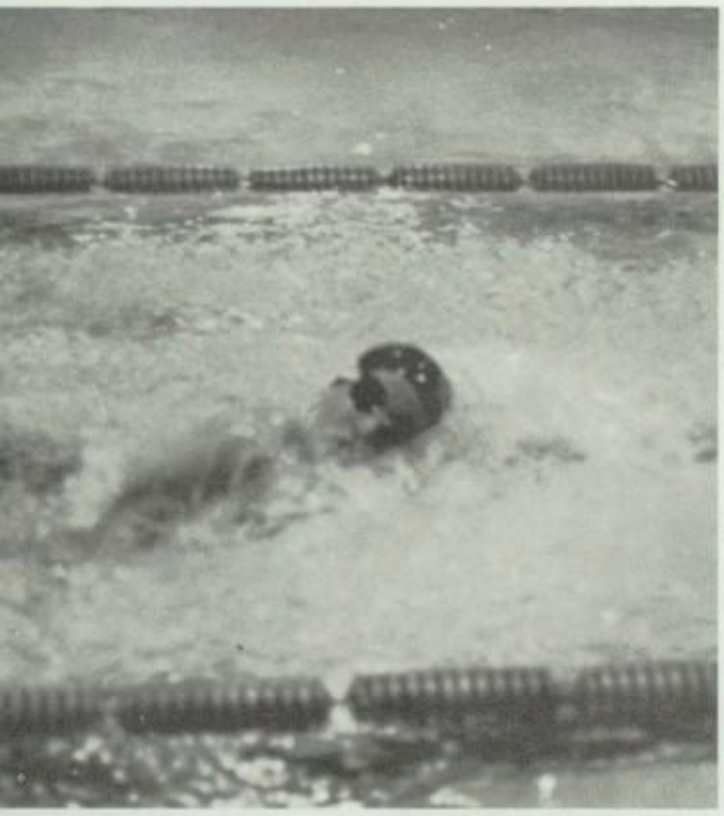
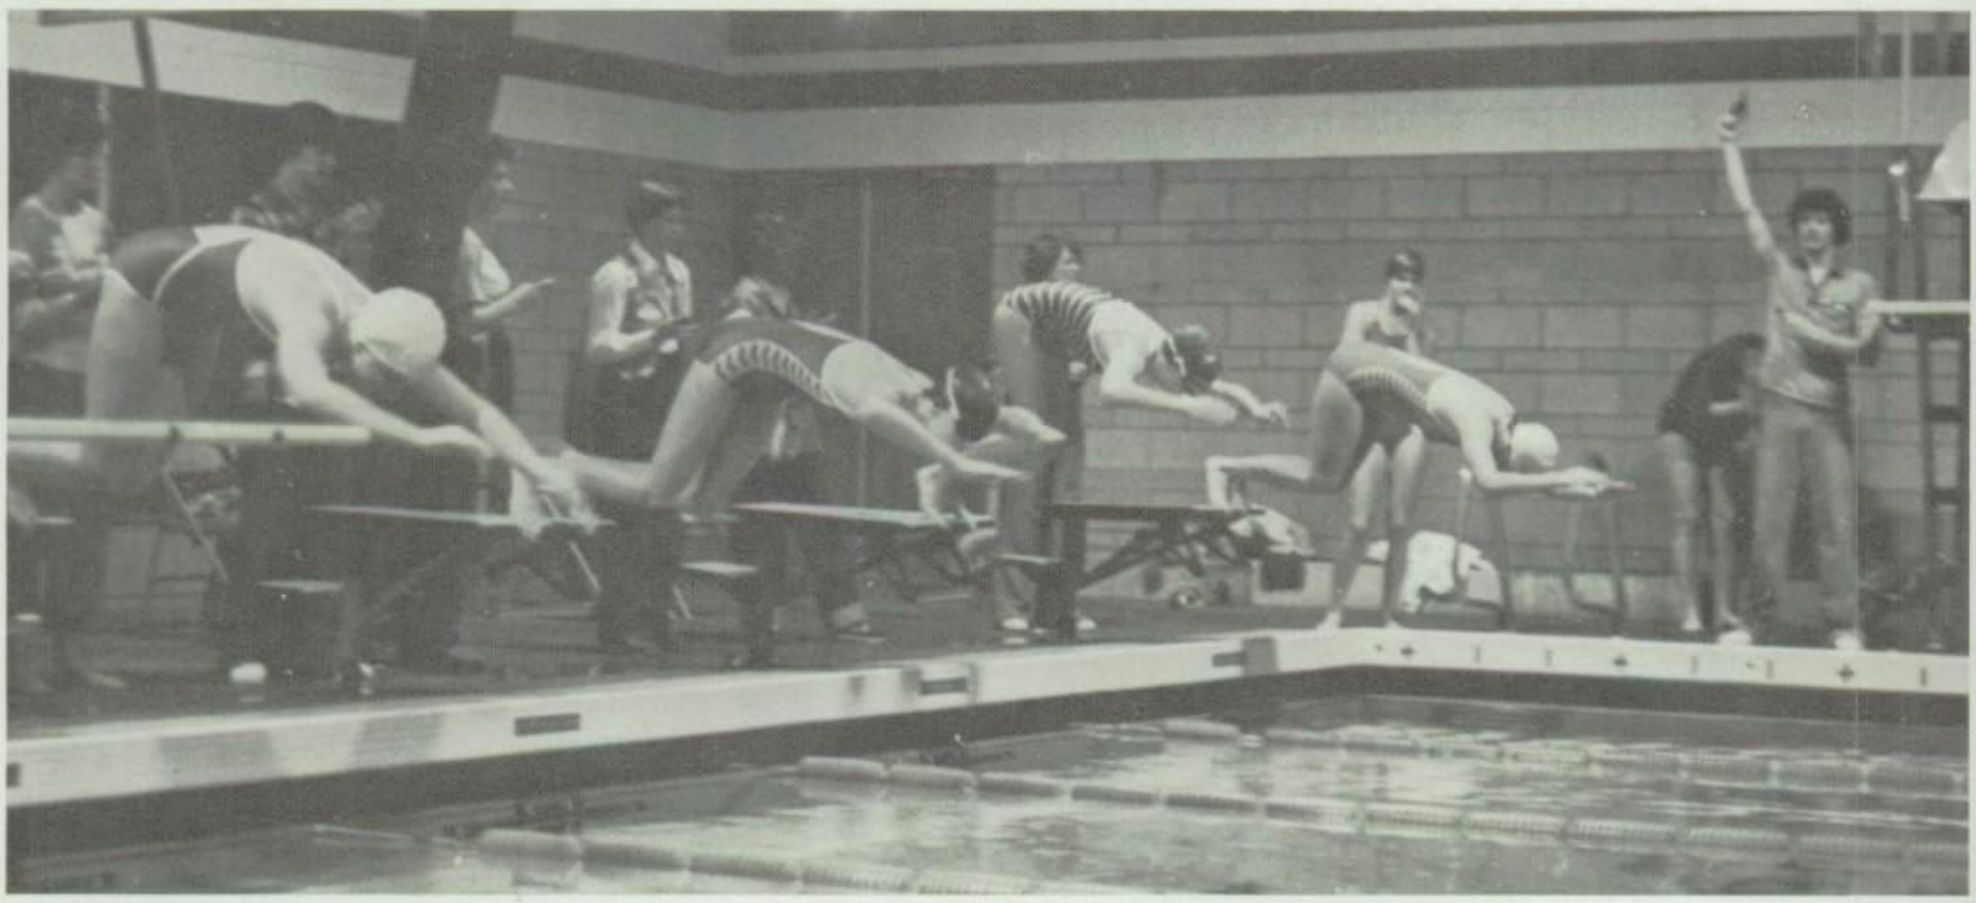
Marauders conquer in "their" water





Judges and Timers ready . . . ? Swimmers take your mark . . . .Go! Having such a small team seemed like a small family with turnout early in the morning and late at night. "Mariner swimming had a winning season with low quantity", quoted Coach Watson.

Psych parties were a big add this year. This made the team closer and with many new friends. Co-captains were Dana Wadekamper and Julie Echelbarger along with Krista Watson, the perfect yell leader, who kept the spirit high. They took pride in one special meet this year against Shorewood. It was the challenge for Wesco champs. Shorewood came in wearing war paint on their faces while ripping down all of our posters in hope to psyche Mariner out, but the Marauders hung in there and kept the winning title.

"This year was one special team and next year will be something to look forward to and very unpredictable!" commented Brenda Savage.

Girls struggle for winning season

Coached by Mr. Ardissano this year, the girls' soccer team had a winning season with 5 wins, 4 losses, and had 3 ties. "All the girls worked really hard this year to get physically ready for the season, but something happened to them, they just couldn't pull together," said Mr. Ardissano.

Their sweetest victory this year was their first game against Cascade where everyone stood out and did a tremendous job of working together and capitalizing on Cascade's mistakes.

The captains this year were Ann Ostalaza and Sherri Sommerfeld, and receiving the honors as most improved was Susan Lavell.

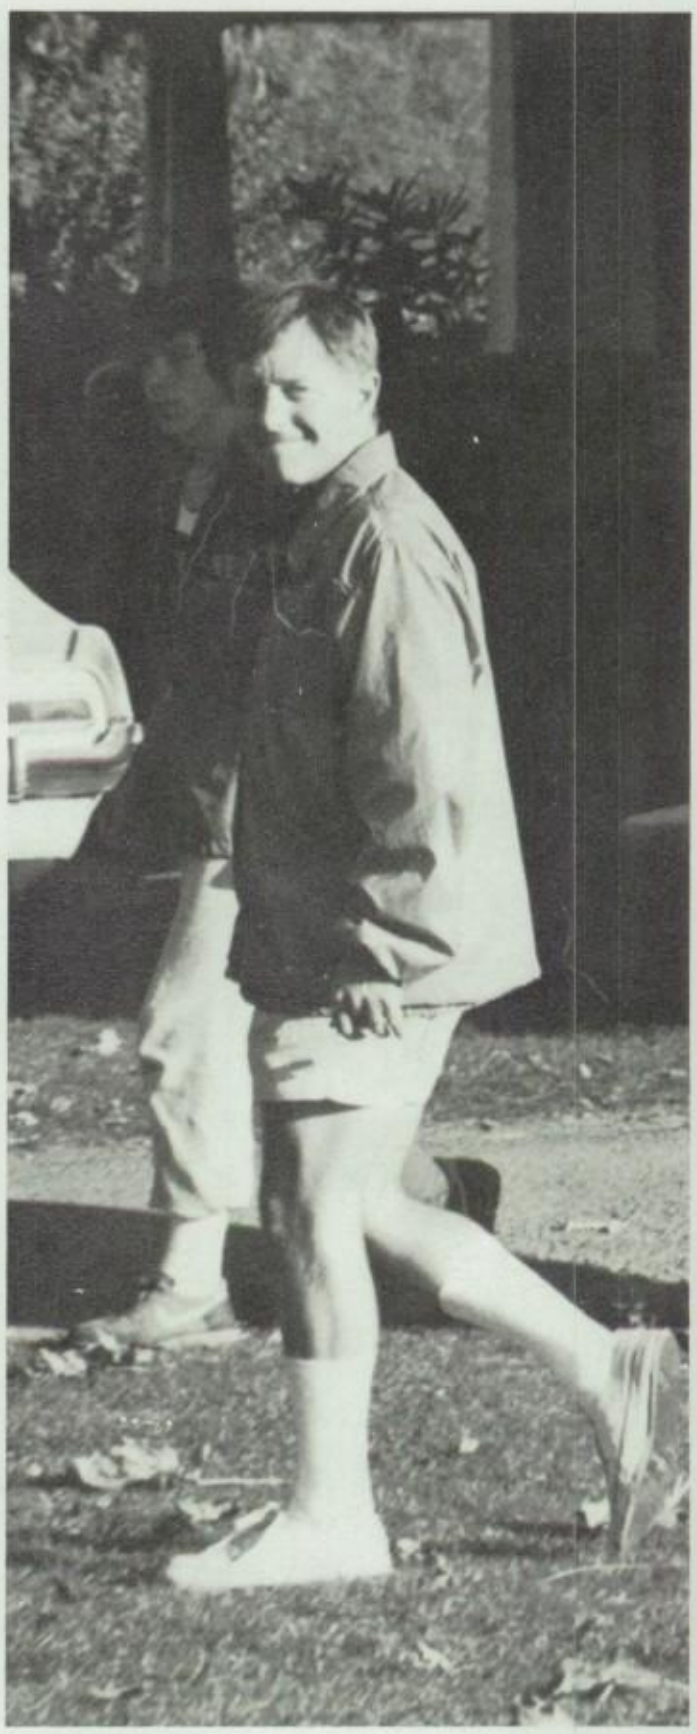
Quality runners have winning season



Mariner's highly successful 1981 cross country team consisted of many quality runners. With the top eight varsity runners, the team had a league meet record of 9 wins and 0 losses, including the North County Championship.

In the WESCO Championship meet the team placed second, and in District, Mariner placed fourth. Varsity team members Carl Hauenstein, Pat Hebert, Randy King and Todd Merriman concluded their Cross Country competition this year. They were an integral part of Mariner's present and past years success. Scott Willis, second in WESCO, Mike Eggleston, Kent Pearson and David McFadden contributed heavily to the success of our team. Their efforts and the efforts of a talented group of young runners such as Ty Klesick, David Smith, Darren Baker, Todd Davenport, Tom Christensen and the expected return of letterman Doug Lamey point to another winning squad next season.

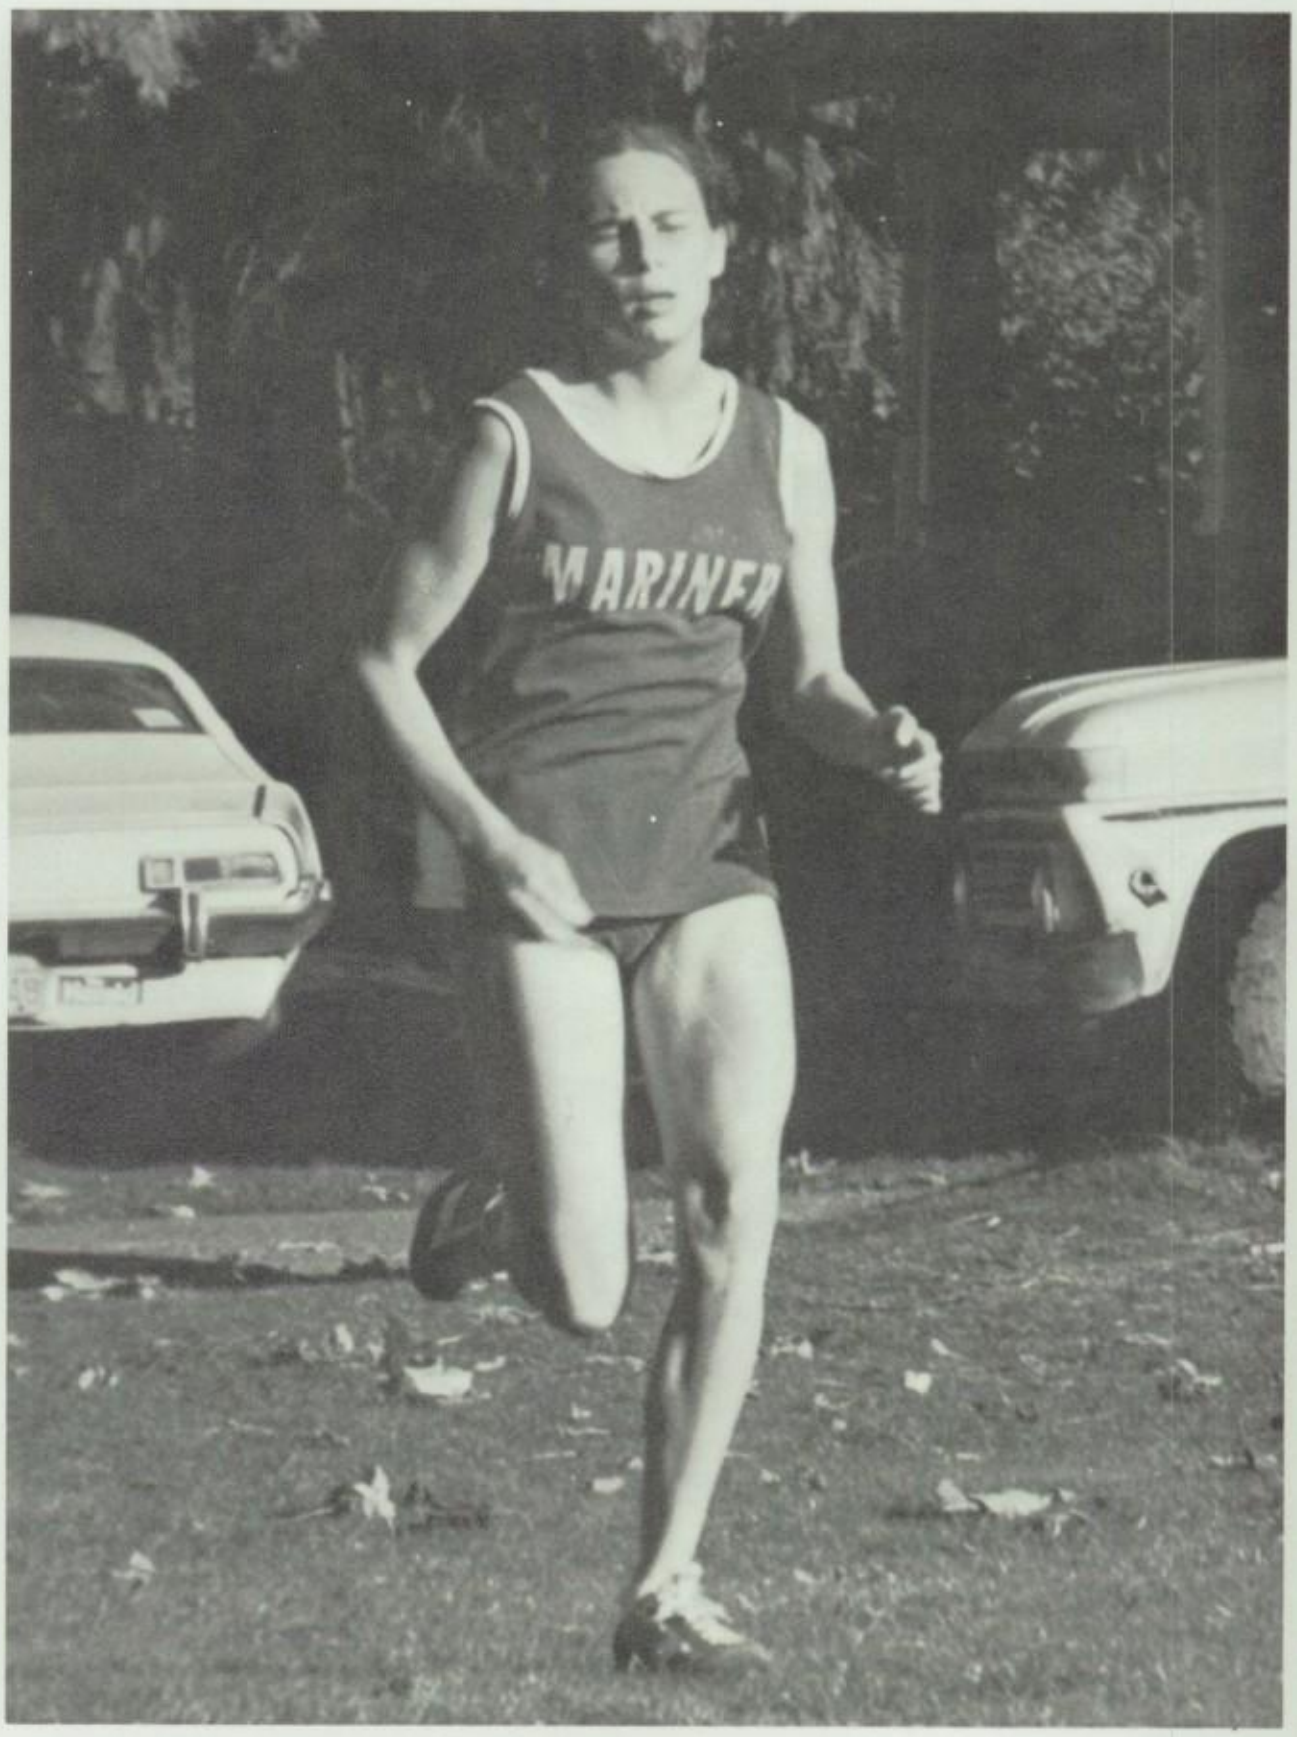
Dedicated girls run with pride



"For being such an inexperienced team, they did very well," said Coach Price.

Girls' Cross Country ended their season with a 2-5 record.

"They're a real talented team, and I wish we would have started practicing sooner," said Mr. Price.

According to Coach Price, you have to be very dedicated to run cross country, and progress is very slow. It's also very easy to get discouraged. The team is a very small one, only seven runners. The girls went to districts this year and sophomore Ursula Stuart placed 23rd out of 180 runners.

Kim Corrigan was voted this year's team captain, Kari Stenson was voted most improved, and Ursula Stuart was most inspirational.

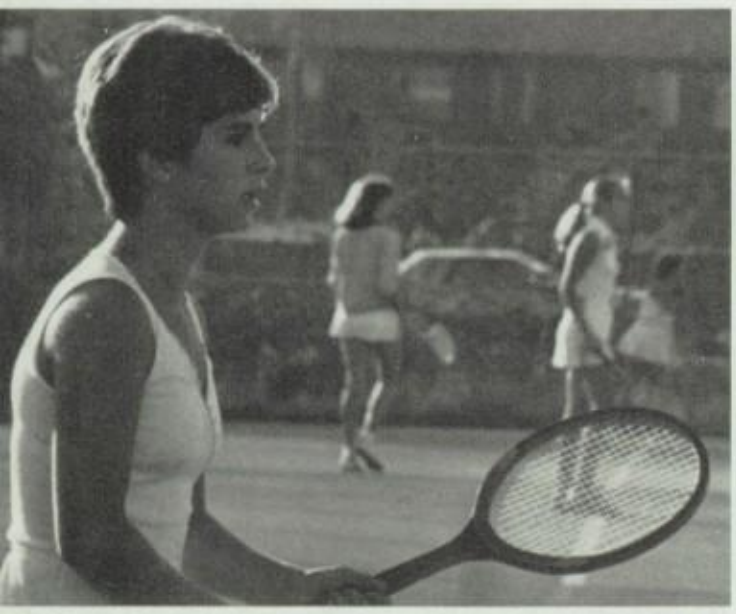
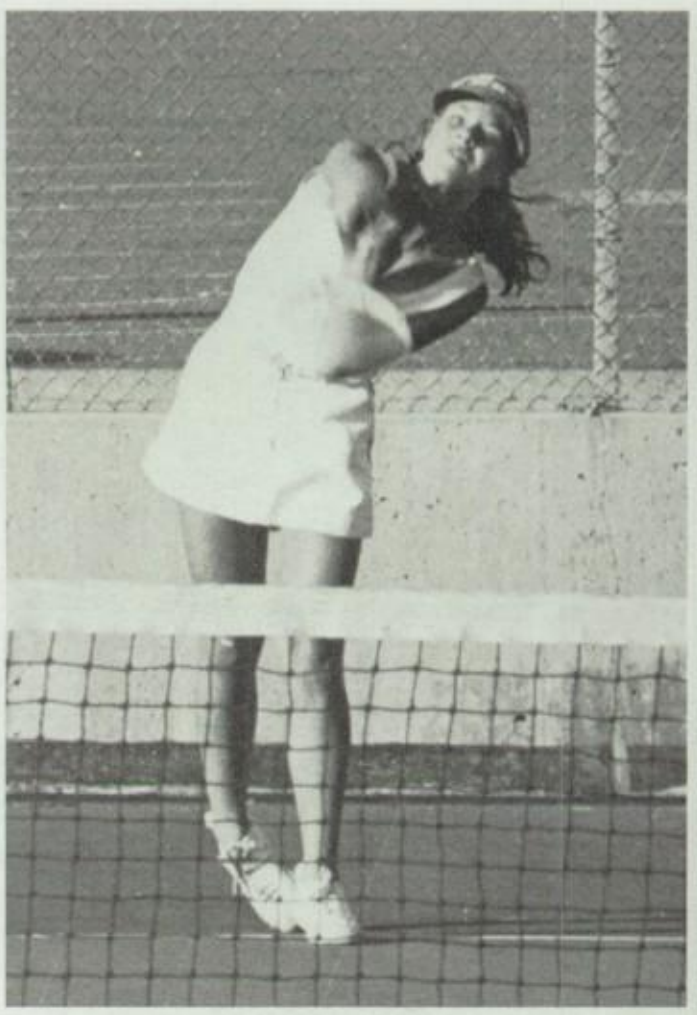
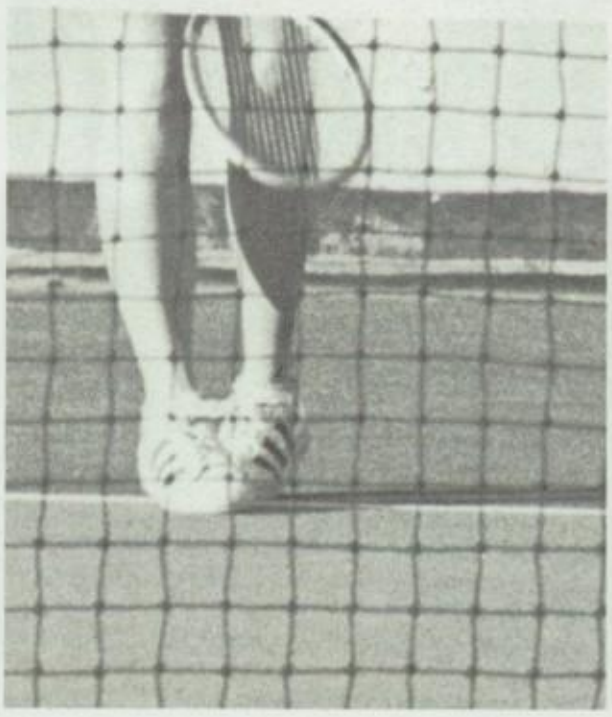
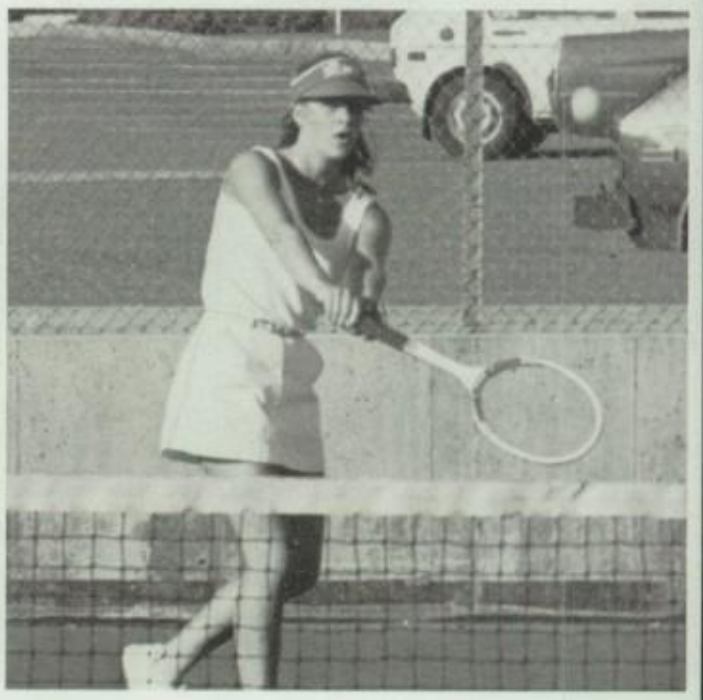
Netters finish on high note









It was a year of change and growth for the girl's tennis team, which finished 3-11. Clare Hauseman said, "We lost lots of good players from last year, plus we had to adjust to a new coach."

Coach Franz said, "Something was missing for a long time—we didn't make tennis a high enough priority." Absences often resulted in shuffling positions at the last minute.

The Oak Harbor game was a turning point. Players who missed turnouts or games started paying the consequences. The coach buckled down and the team began pulling together.

"Coach Franz expected a lot. We had to work a lot harder this year, said Liz Howley, Mariner's top singles player.

The team felt best about their last game, a 7-0 loss to Cascade. "Even though we lost," said Liz, "we just all felt we played our best."

Many from this year's young team will return next year. The team is looking for a fast start and plan to make an important change—to put tennis first.

Short team has talent

Varsity volleyball had quite an experience this year, ending the season with a 3-11 record. Of course, they did beat Cascade and Everett, that helped for their morale. This year's team was a small one in two ways, height and in the number of players.

Their enthusiasm was great throughout the entire season, win or lose!

Junior varsity started their season doing very well, but towards the end they slipped into a 7-7 record. Of course, a tied record is still pretty good and it makes the players even more anxious for next volleyball season.

J.V. put out a lot of energy and enthusiasm. They expect to do very will next year.

New additions are welcomed

Along with the many new changes, Mariner welcomed two new administrators to their staff. Ms. Suzanne Simonson, the new principal, came to Mariner from Redmond High School.

Ms. Simonson is excited about working with the students and staff. She said, "The student body is so friendly and involved."

The new vice-principal, Mr. Jon Evavold, came to Mariner from Harrington High School. The school is located east of the mountains in Lincoln county.

Mr. Evavold's job includes working with the A.S.B. officers, student government, and school discipline.

Best of luck to the new administrators and welcome to Mariner High School.

Teachers leave Mariner

Not only did Mariner lose the freshman class this year, but we lost many teachers. The teachers left to accomodate educational areas at other schools in the district. There are 21 teachers who left. They are: Anna Marie Lee, Jim Beaunaux, Jim Underwood, Bernie Thorstensen, Jenny McCoy, Sandra Pearce, Milt Smrstik, Sue Roberts, Mark Bond, Jerry Morris, Roy Schiller, Doug Schaill, Frank Foster, Doug Olander, Fran Sanford, Bob Virta, Don Riccardo, Jim Peightel, Dick Watson, Janet Irby, and Robert Stockton. They all will be greatly missed.

Due to the loss of the freshmen, the class of eighty-four was initiated. During the first pep assembly of the year, a banana eating competition was held. One person from each class was brought down and blindfolded. As soon as the contest started, the junior and senior took off their blindfolds and watched Sophomore Kurt Pearson gobble down a numerous amount of bananas. Humiliation struck the class of eighty-four once again.

Booster club sponsors dance

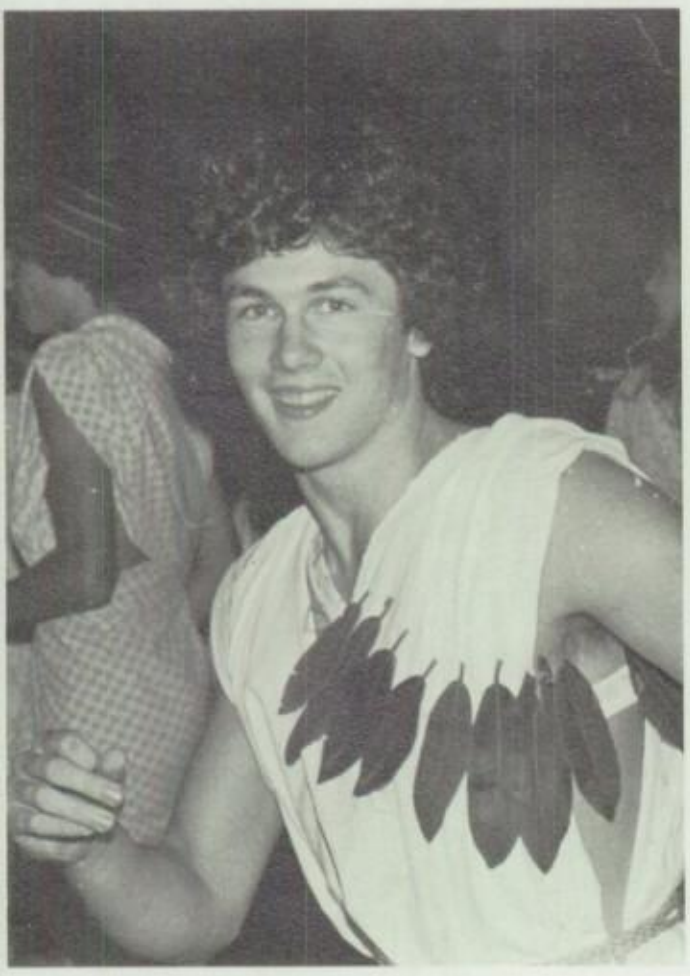
TOGA! TOGA! PAJAMAS? The first booster club dance was held after the Mariner-Lake Stevens game. The band, Hot Wine, provided the music. Booster Club sold pizza and pop for all the hungry dancers.

The dance added to the spirit of the football victory and also provided music and fun for everyone.

Student store makes a move

During the summer, construction work started in the west end of the building. The student store moved downstairs next to room W102. The store is able to sell food, cough drops, and the usual merchandise.

The student store is run by the DECA club under the supervision of Mr. Dennis Hunter.



A new discipline policy?

A new discipline policy? Not exactly. The new policy is really a freshened up version of the same rules Mariner has had in the past. The only major change is the follow-up that will occur when rules are violated.

The reason for the strong enforcement of the policy is due to the pressure placed on the school to alleviate truancy and tardies as much as possible. Along with a higher attendance rate the policy is expected to make students more responsible for their actions. The entire student body will benefit from the effects of the discipline policy.

Spanish 560 lives it up

Bread of the dead . . . miniature skeletons popping out of toy coffins . . . night long ceremonies with candles and fireworks. It's Day of the Dead and the Spanish 560 class celebrated it wholeheartedly.

Day of the Dead, celebrated on November 2, is a holiday on which the Mexicans honor the deceased. They prepare food for the dead, eat meals at graves, and give presents to the children.

The Spanish 560 class didn't go to the extremes of visiting a cemetery but did celebrate it with some of the same authenticities. Dressed in black the students brought original paper tombstones and food fit for a monarca (king). Some of the delicasies included tomales wrapped in corn husks and bread in the shape of a skull and crossbones. The class instructor, Miss Rainey, awarded prizes for the best tombstone, food, and appropriate dress. To end the festivities in an educational manner, Lorena Garces, an exchange student from Mexico, gave a presentation on the celebration of Day of the Dead.

Open house held

The first open house-club fair of the year was held on the evening of November 3rd. Before open house started, the band held a fund raising spaghetti dinner. The band played throughout the dinner.

Parents were able to walk around and look at booths from various clubs. Some of the clubs were Natsilane, German Club, FFA, GAA, Ski Club, and Starboard Tack.

Ms. Simonson gave a speech, then parents were able to visit with all the teachers. The night proved to be a complete success.

"84" sponsor punk dance

Unique clothes . . . weird makeup . . . strange hairdos. The sophomore class put on a punk dance after the Mariner-Cascade football game. A big crowd showed up with wild clothes and glittering makeup. Others came with pink, green, and blue hair. KRKO supplied the music. The dance proved to be fun and helped restore the spirit of the students after a football defeat.

Koepp's all wet

Once upon a chemistry class some concerned Marauders informed Steve science teacher of a distressing situation. Apparently the safety shower (used when messy students spill chemicals on themselves) was not in working condition. Being the efficient teacher that he is he took it upon himself to test it. He took the nearest 2 x 4 and skillfully shoved it in the shower. Water gushed from all directions and failed to stay inside the stall. Mr. Koepp tried to remove the board but soon came to the sad realization that it was stuck. At that point he shed his vanity and courageously hopped into the shower where he was immediately drenched. He attempted to pull up the grate but failed. He then tried a lever which, also, proved pointless. Then without warning the shower stopped.

Steve science teacher, worn out from the ordeal, spent the afternoon mopping the flooded room. When questioned about the big event, Mr. Koepp said, "We've had worse floods—but that's another story."

Another championship!

Another championship! Mariner's Parliamentary Law Team placed first in the nation on November 11th, at Carthage, Missouri.

Team members are Marianne Beltjens, Pam and Rhonda Short, Rick Wells, Bob Mee, and Stacey Spooner. They earned that right to go to National Competition by placing first in state competition last June.

The team was the unanimous choice of four judges in the competition. Congratulations!!

No cheerleaders?

What happened? No cheerleaders at the last pep assembly or the football game? Due to an apparent misunderstanding, the cheerleaders weren't allowed to cheer at the football game against Cascade.

The cheerleaders left school for a luncheon and on the way back their car got a flat tire. The girls called the school, but their message wasn't received. Due to a big misunderstanding and a lot of wild rumors, the cheerleaders weren't permitted to perform at the last game of the season.

Autorama "81"

The coliseum was filled with nice and expensive cars. Some were just for show, others have the background of excitement.

The "Olympia" funny car was on show at the autorama. It's main sponsors are KISW "Rock" radio and Olympia beer. Owned by Mike Miller who drives it in many races. The Mustang body of the car gives it a racey look. A great car for show and action.

Reaganomics?

Trickle down? Supply side? David Stockman? 8% unemployment? Recession? Depression? What does it all mean?

Well, meet the economic trend of the eighties, "Reaganomics." Just as he promised in the 1980 presidential campaign, President Ronald Reagan has rolled his budget cutting, tax slashing plan into action.

With top economic advisor David Stockman at the helm, the Reagan Administration economic program is in high gear. But so is the inflation rate, the prime rate, and unemployment.

The basic philosophy behind all this is supply side economics. By cutting the taxes on large companies, the administration hopes to revive the economy.

Whether supply side economics will work or not has yet to be seen. But either way the results will effect our lives well into this decade.

Egyptian president slain

October 6—the anniversary of Egypt's first step towards a peace treaty with Israel took on a grave new meaning this year. It will be remembered as the day of Egyptian president Anwar Sadat's tragic death.

Sadat and other high officials had gathered in Cairo to watch a military parade. Rapid gunfire and the throwing of grenades put an end to this viewing. Many were injured in the attack—including the president.

He was immediately rushed to Maadi Military Hospital where he suffered from nervous shock and internal bleeding in his chest cavity. He died at 2:40 p.m..

Shortly after the president's death vice-president Hosni Mubarak was appointed to take his place.

Rolling Stones sold out

Sold out . . . tickets for the Rolling Stones first show on the fourteenth of October sold out in less than five hours. This prompted the second show. Over 100,000 people gathered at the Kingdome for the concert.

The Greg Kihn Band opened the show followed by the J. Geils Band. The Stones put on a solid two hour set ending with "satisfaction". Although some fans were disappointed by the performance the concert will be remembered as a great event in rock and roll history.

Video games are new craze

Asteroids . . . space invaders . . . the new craze has began. Teenagers have been spending enormous amounts of money playing different video games. There are hundreds of different kinds, with various skill levels.

Some parents are worried that video games are harmful. But, from the teenagers view, video games are here to stay.

Boeing's new bird flies

Up, up and away . . . Boeing's newest bird took its first flight on September 26, 1981.

The 767 is the latest and most fuel efficient in a long line of successful commercial jets which include the 707, 727, 737, and 747.

Boeing executives expressed the hope that the new plane will help the company maintain its competitive edge in the market during the 80's and 90's.

The 767 had a perfect maiden flight from Paine Field.

Compliments of Boeing

Loneliness is . . .

. . . an empty space in your heart. It's like sitting in a dark room by yourself wondering where everyone is. Loneliness would be without friends or family, all by yourself somewhere.

Lori Farrington

. . . not feeling good about yourself inside. If you don't enjoy your own company, how can other people enjoy being with you?

Chris Cassella

. . . feeling all by yourself and that no one cares.

Lisa Rasmussen

. . . going through life without a dream.

Jim Todd

. . . not having someone who cares for you and will do things with and for you.

Debbie Campbell

. . . when you call all your friends and no one is home.

Joel Barnett

. . . when you have no friends and you have no self-discipline.

Heidi Krogmann

. . . when nobody is there to tell your problems to.

Mark Anderson

. . . when a person feels alone, not necessarily without friends, but alone within himself. It's like walking barefoot on a beach with the waves as your only friend.

SENIORS

Graduation! Oh what a time! A time for worrying . . . rehearsal, Senior portraits, caps and gowns, finding a job, college and credits. "Ms. Simonson, I need 10 levels in Humanities!" But graduation is also a time for fun . . . Senior skip day, going to parties and just having a GOOD TIME!

Homecoming came and tears of sadness and gladness were shed. Homecoming Queen? None other than the cheerful Kim Corrigan.

Holidays at Mariner was an eventful time. The Seniors helped celebrate for they knew it would be their last.

Time, time, time. Do you have the time? Not if you are a Senior. But as it got closer and closer to that certain day, we all new we would miss and be missed.

Good luck in the future! We are the Class of 82, because we are the class that will always rule!

A year for improvement

Jump, shoot, Marauders' score! Despite the 6-14 record, this year's boys' basketball team showed lots of spirit, team work, determination and worked hard. Coach Jerry Carr was an excellent coach with a lot of enthusiasm to help work with the boys. With five of the teams members graduating in June, it might be tough next year. But they plan to be getting some good Sophomores in. They will be losing Dave Blackham, Kevin Daniels, Dale Green, Mark Kreutz and Dave Lamey. Doug Lowe commented "We plan to have a pretty good team next year and maybe in the top three in conference."

Spirit holds teams together

The J.V. team finished their season with a 15 win 5 loss record. Among these games was an exciting victory over Cascade. With 8 seconds left in the game, Joh Schaub made two free throws winning the game by one point. J.V. also won every game and took first place in the holiday tournament at Shorewood. This victory gave players confidence for future games. Mariner lost to undefeated Snohomish, which players commented was the toughest team played. But they kept their spirits up. Outstanding players included, Jon Schaub, Carmen Sands, and Danny O'brien.

The Sophomore boy's basketball team finished their season with a 9 win 5 loss record. Outstanding players included Rick Norman, and John Belford. Turnout at the sophomores Monday and Wednesday night games is small, Rick Norman commented its funner to play and the team plays better when students come to their games and cheer them on. Players commented that the season was basically average. The toughest team played was Stanwood. Players hope to do better next year.

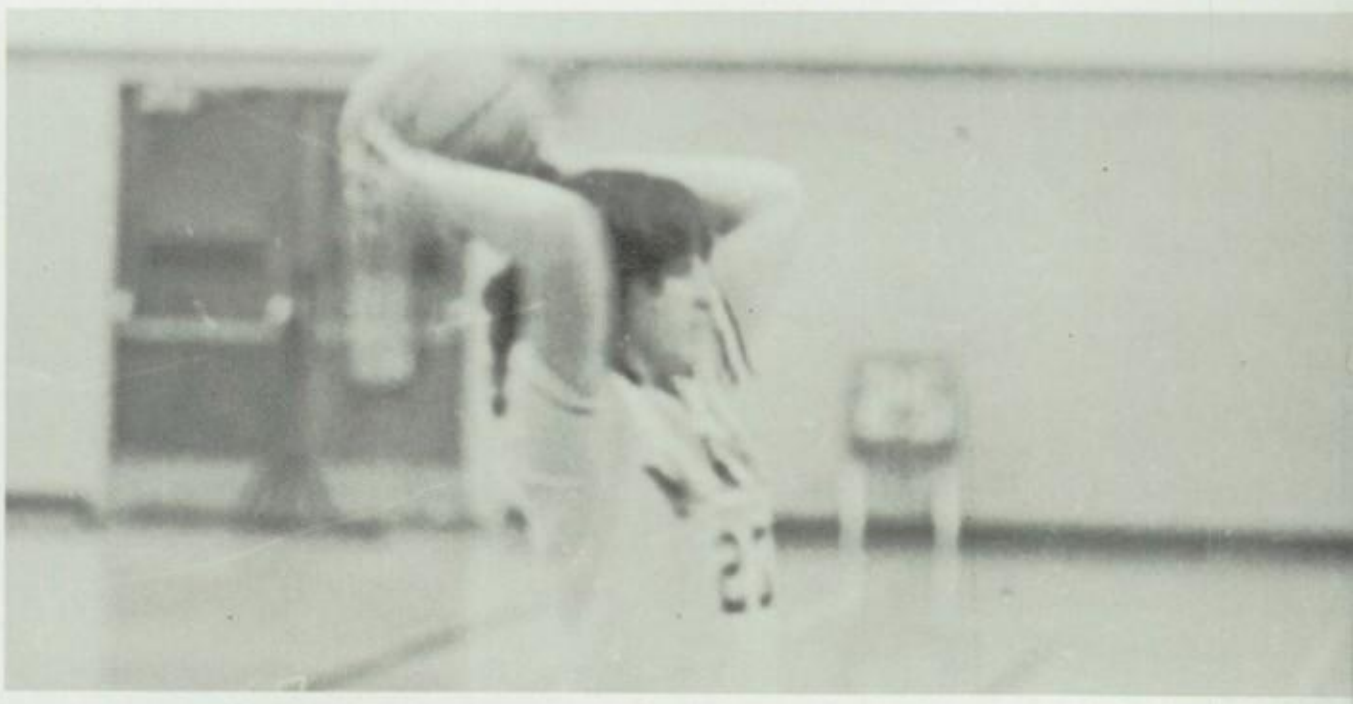
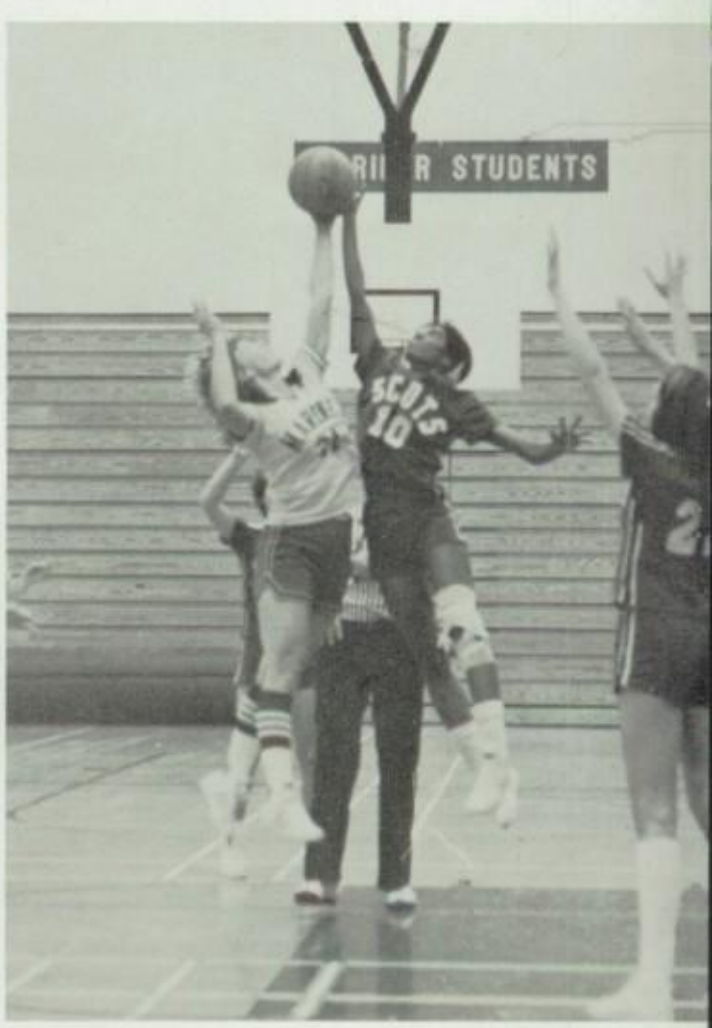
A record breaking season





The Girls Basketball team completed an extremely successful year for 1981-1982. The the 16-6 season consisted of speed and height to create an exciting atmosphere of winning. The only disappointment was losing to Lynnwood in overtime, which left the team one game short of regionals. With the closing of the season the team had many impressive wins, and the highest scoring average in Mariner history. The firepower and leadership was provided by seniors Cheryl Clingman, Kim Corrigan, Val Rarig, and Laura Swartz. "Unity and a genuine sense of teamwork were the strong points of this team," Head Coach Bill Costello commented. With the return of Kim Thacker and starters Shari Sommerfeld, Linda Dupuis, and Janine Pringle, the team should be just as competitive. Kim Thacker said, "I like being around people and friends and getting to play with them while I can."

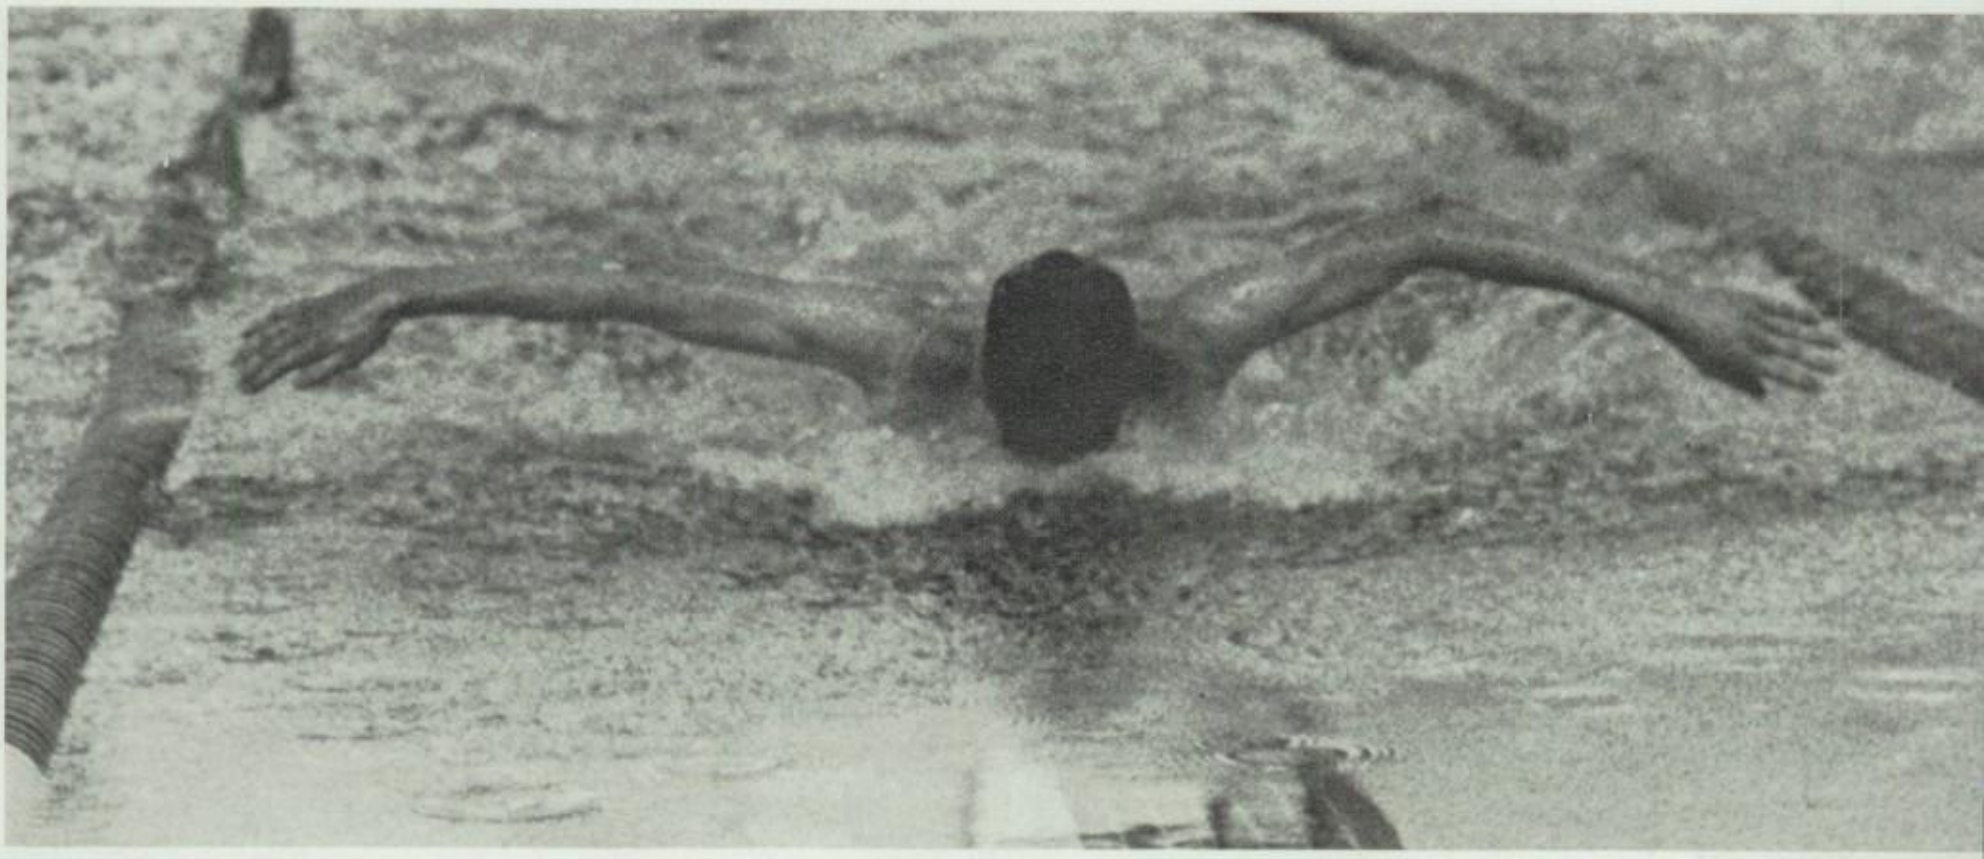
Marauders motivate excellence



A season record of 15-1 was an exciting team effort for the marauders. Early in the season was the challenge for the wesco title. A meet against Marysville was described as "shear fear", John Pringle commented. Fantastic swims by most but it was up to the last relay to win it. A proud smile came to Coach Watson as the final score was announced . . . 92-80. Mariner Swimming . . . Another Wesco title!

Team captains were Randy Sprout and Peter Vierthaler. They and six other members led the team to the state meet. Strong competition kept the marauders working hard, as a result they took fourth place.

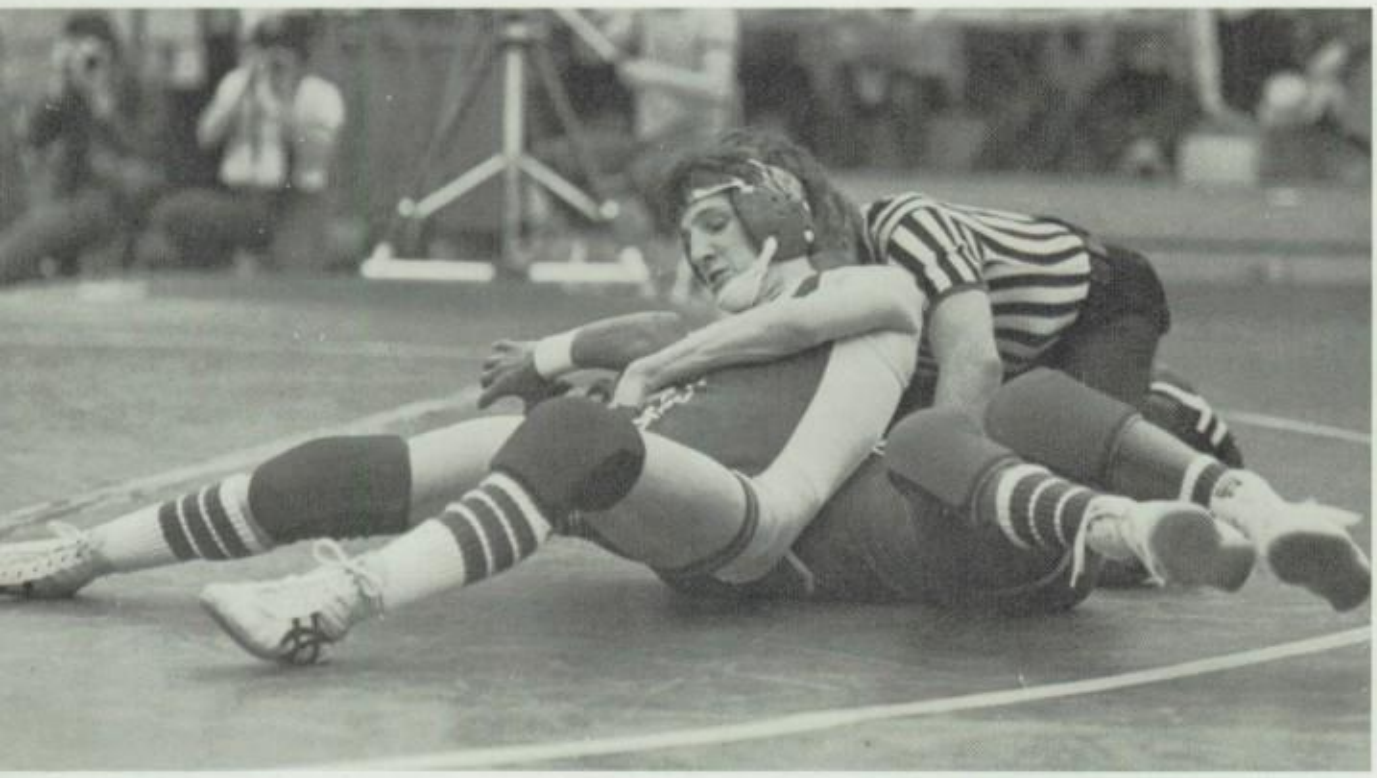
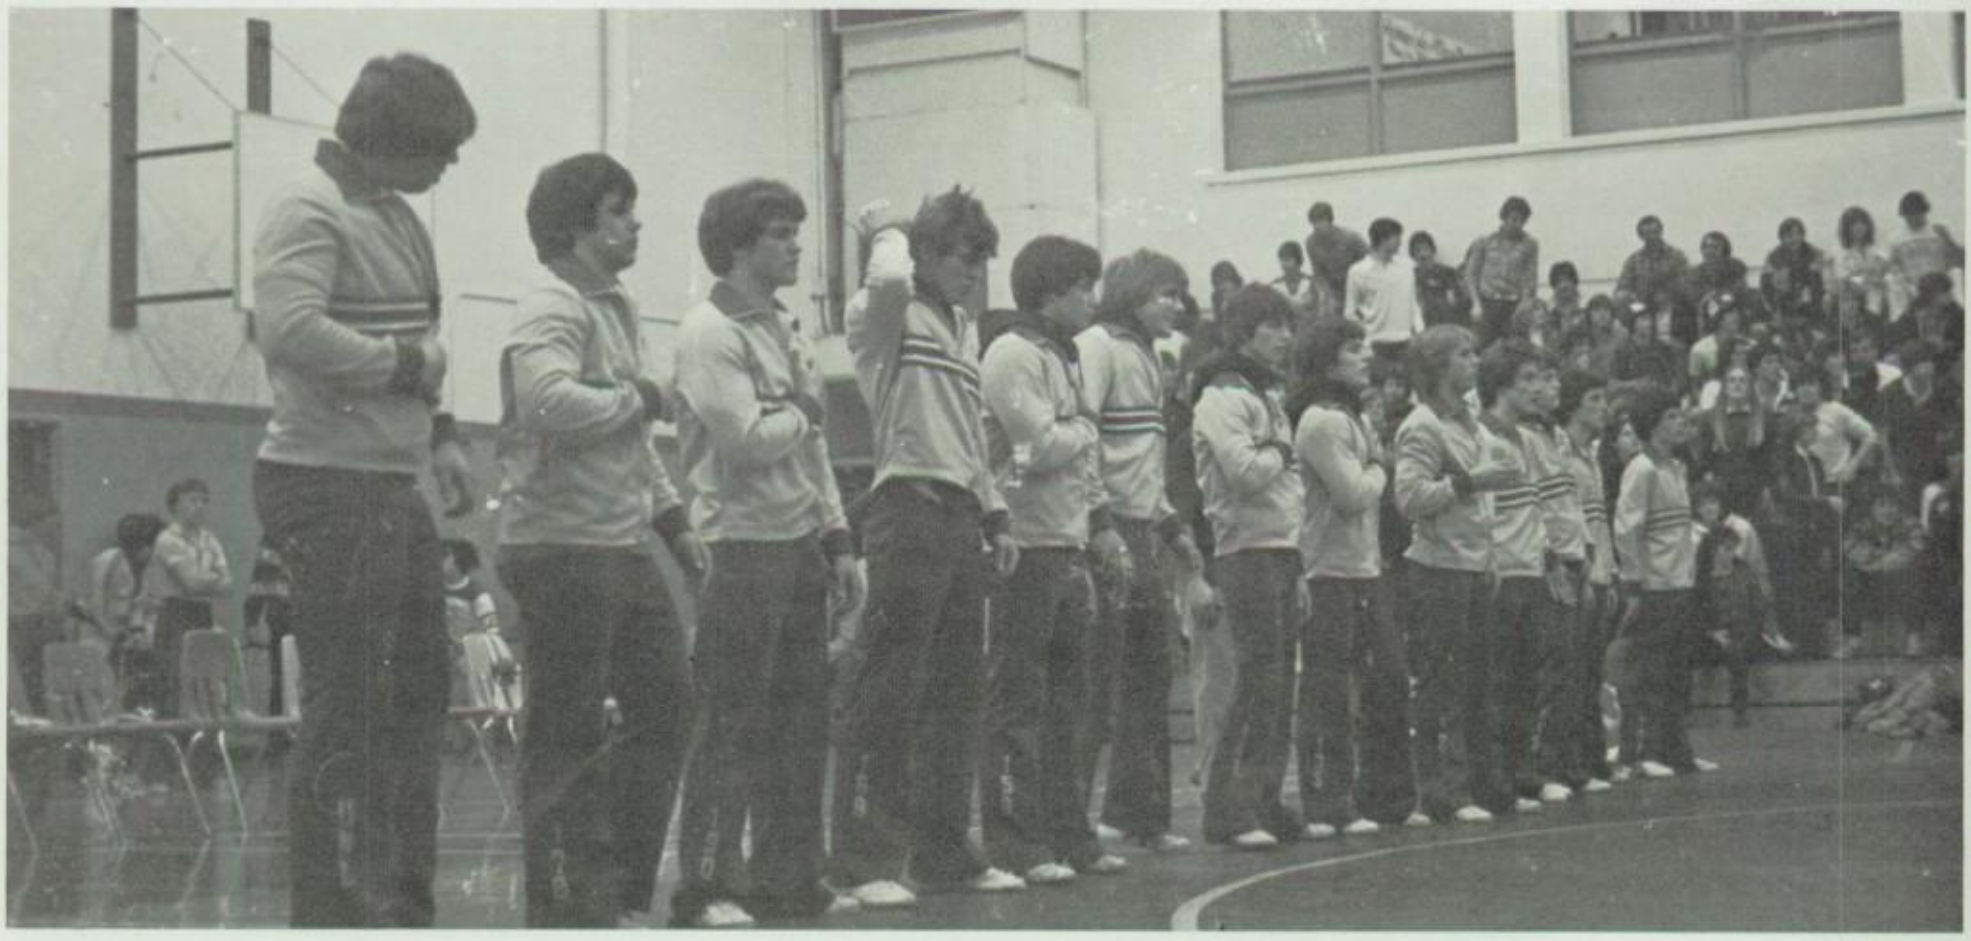
Wrestlers prove their power





Mariner's varsity wrestling team had another successful season. The team went 11-0 and extended its winning streak to a hundred wins with a victory over Snohomish. They won both regionals and district competition and placed third in state.

Coack Bruce Burns attributes the teams success to the talented wresters he has. We've been blessed with awfully good wrestlers," said Coach Burns.

Dedicated, hard-working and aggressive were just a few words the coach used to describe the grapplers. "They like challenges," he explained. "They just want to prove themselves to the best of their ability." he concluded.

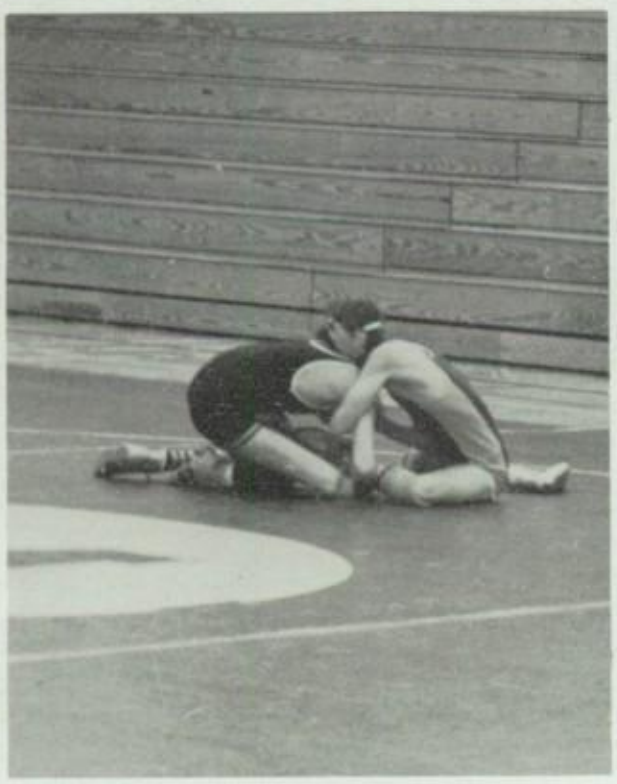
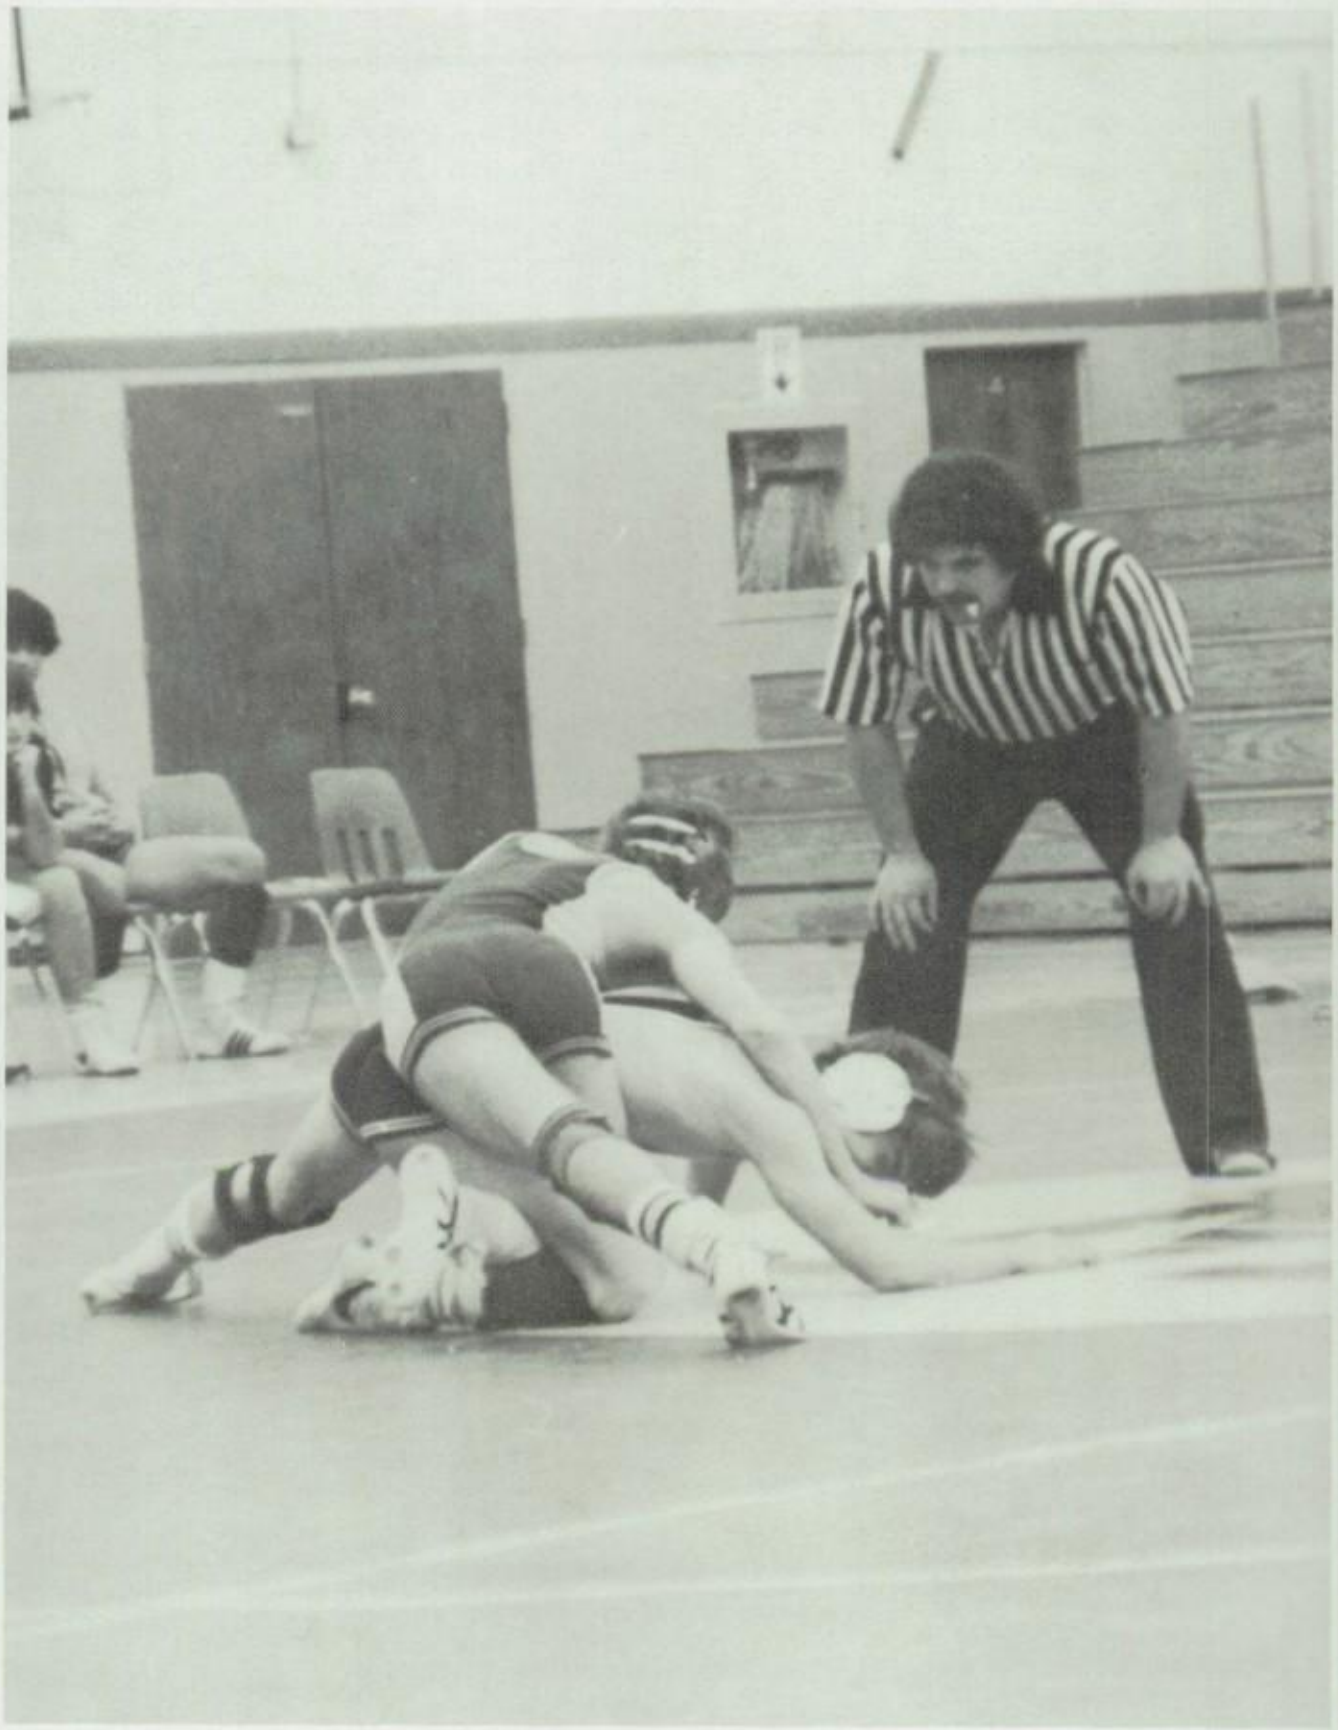
Dedicated wrestlers finish well





J.V. Wrestling

With a record of 18-1 overall and 7-1 against varsity teams, the Marauder junior varsity team did well against everybody they competed against.

The team did great this year. The only time the team was beaten was when the required weights couldn't be filled, according to Mr. Ben Herbert, wrestling coach. The team had problems filling the bottom weights, so they ended up giving the points to the other team. Still, they managed to pick up these points in all of the other weight classes.

"The JV team helped motivate the varsity team against Meadowdale," said Mr. Herbert. "In this match, the JV team gave Meadowdale 24 points, but after that, the young Marauders pinned every man except for the unlimited weight. The final score of the match was 46-30, in favor of Mariner." Mr. Herbert attributes the team's success to tough practices and hard work.

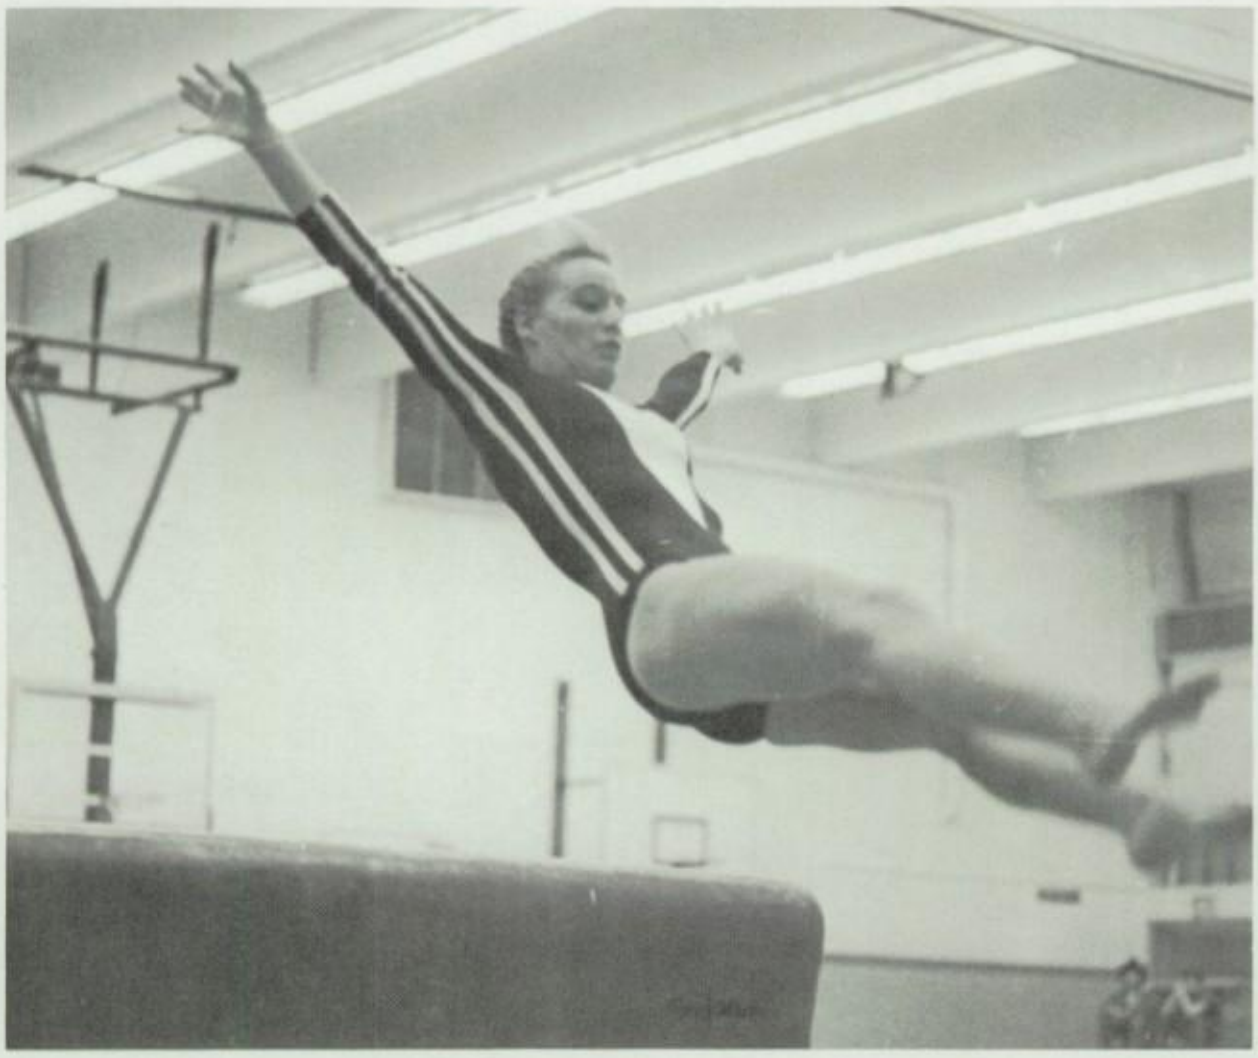
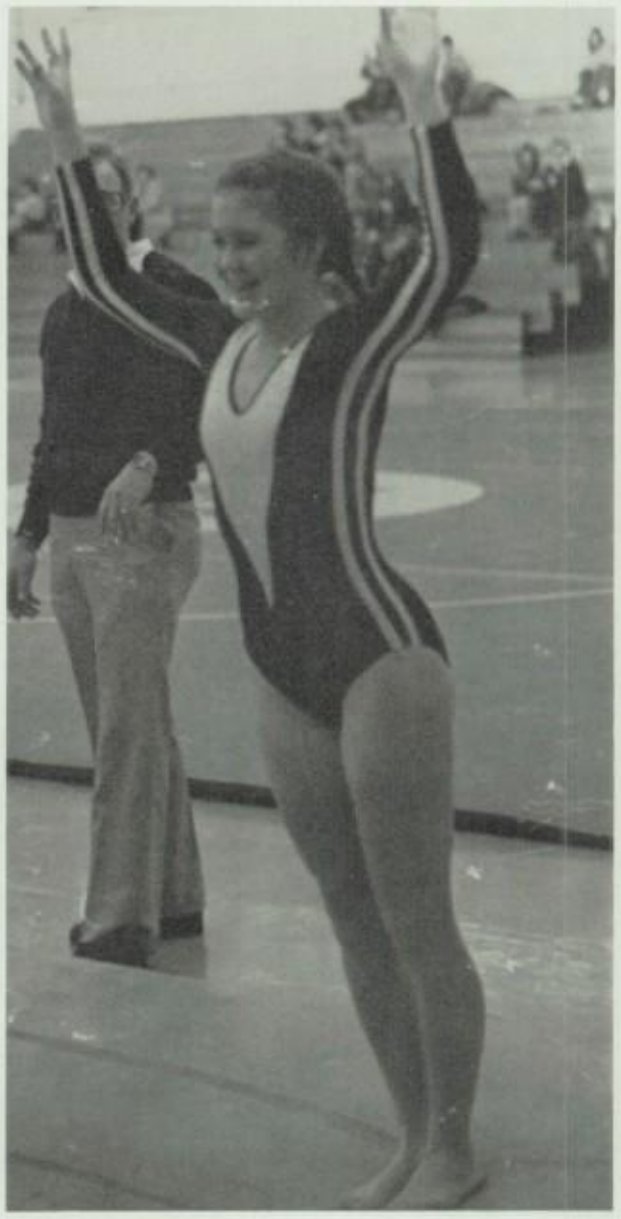
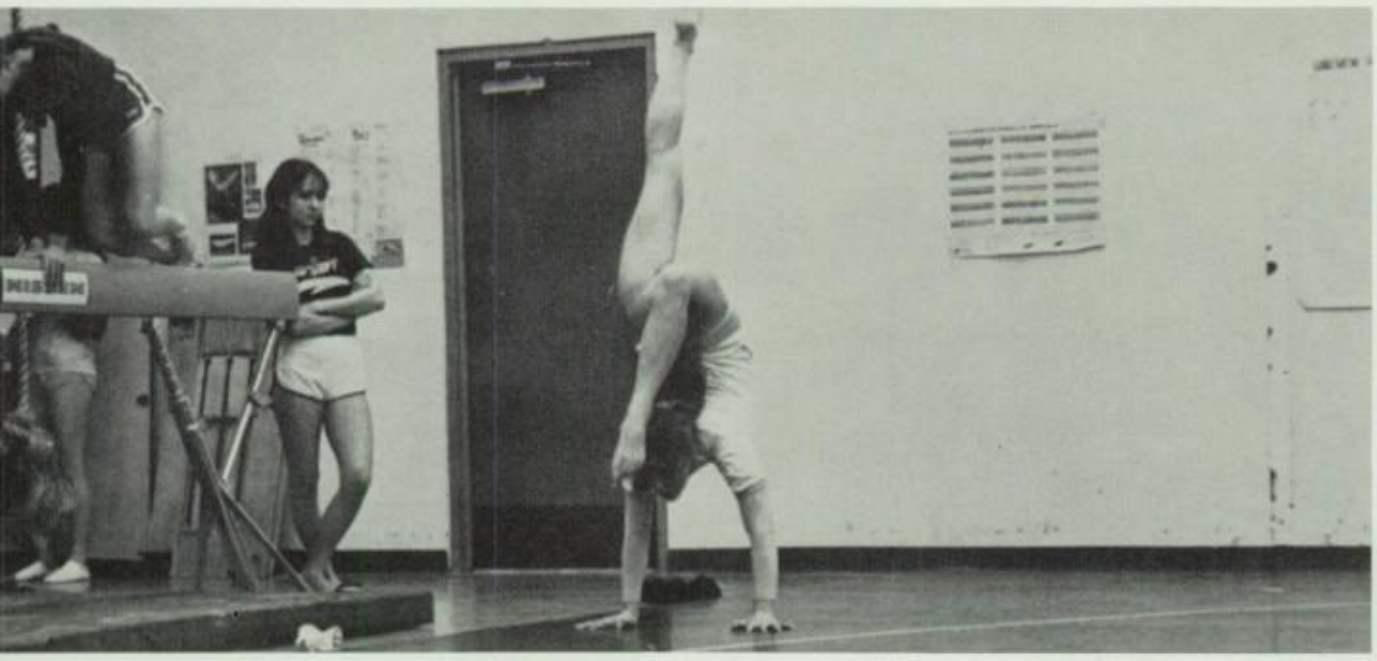
Gymnasts achieve with enthusiasm







Striving for improvement . . . This years gymnastics team worked hard, but they also had a lot of fun. The girls had great enthusiasm and energy and always cheered each other on. Striving for improvement was their main goal and their coach, Erv Ellis, believes they improved beyond his expectations. When one of the girls finally accomplished a long sought after goal, it was an inspiration for the whole team. Being out the first half of the season because of a broken arm, Melanie Hoelzle acheived her personal goals by becoming the team's number one all around. Having only one senior on the team, Melinda Cleveland, captain, the girls will all be here again next year to "crush" Cascade as they did this year. The meet against Cascade was their greatest victory and as Erv would say, "Cascade was sweet!" They had a very satisfying season with a record of 6 wins and 4 losses.

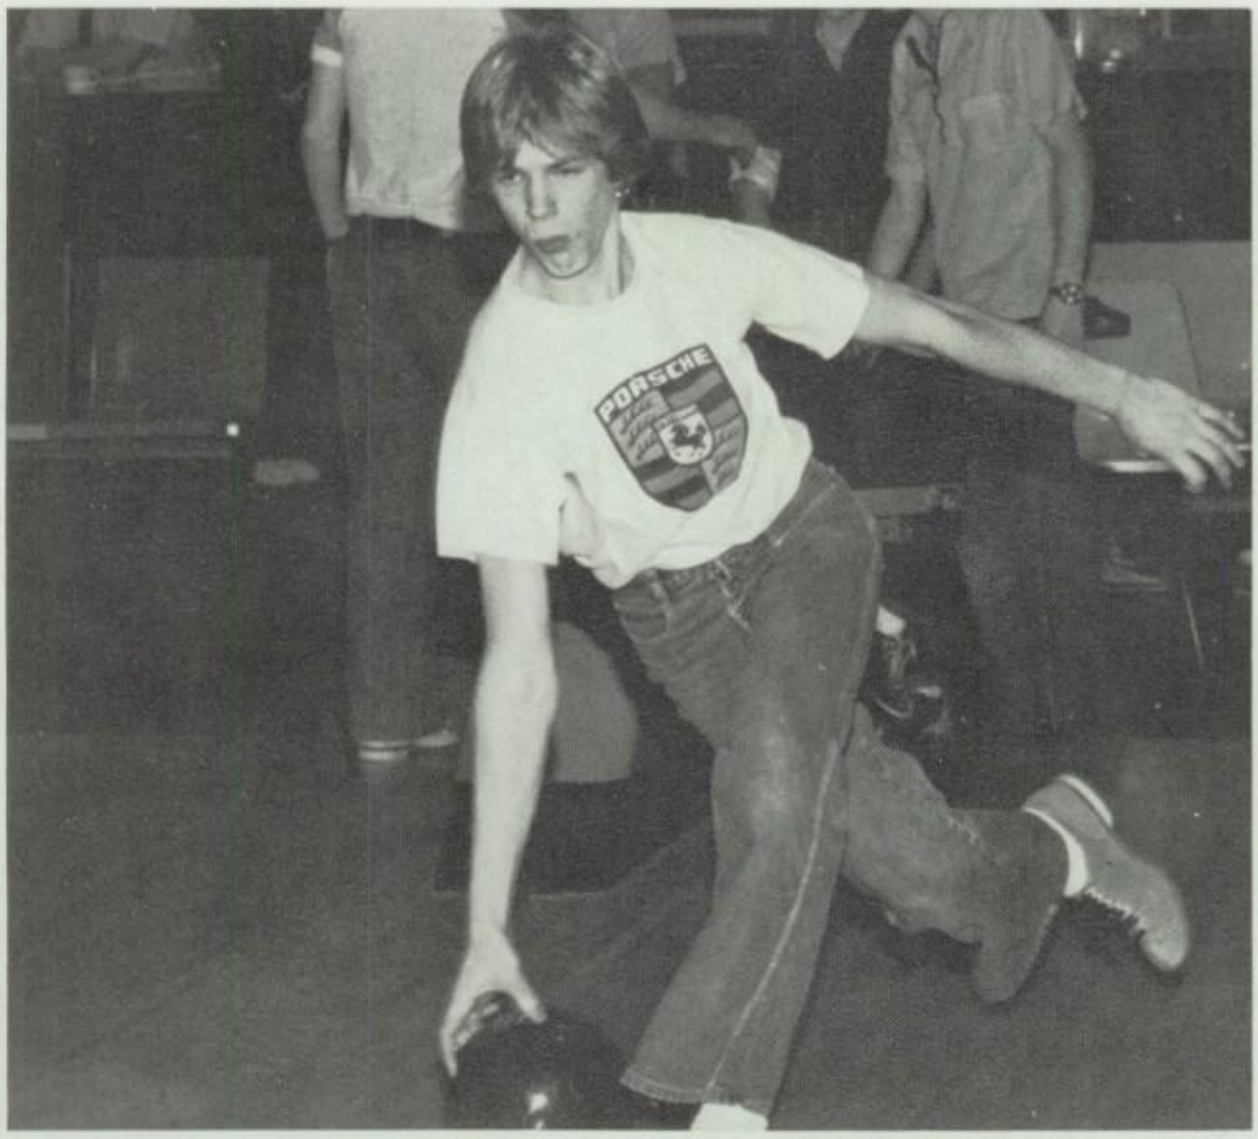
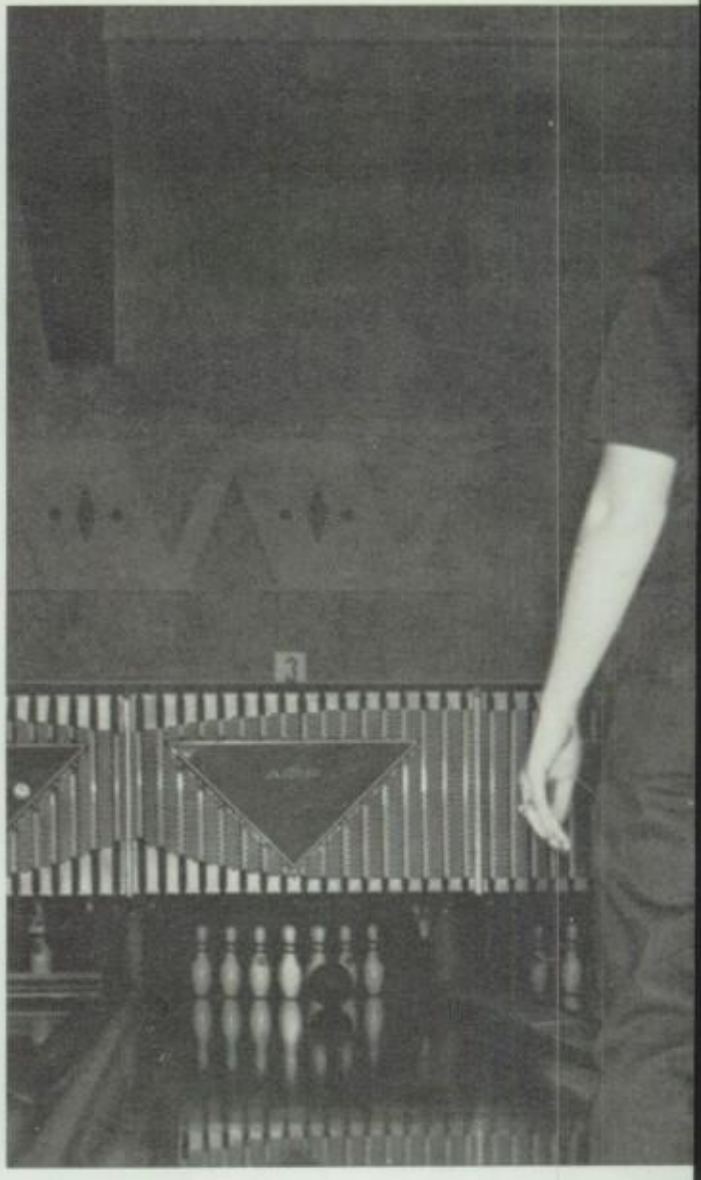
Bowlers work hard





"Both teams worked hard to improve their skills," Coach Peightel said. "Everyone strove to become better at the game. Some of the bowlers had so much dedication that they would go up to the bowling alley ain Saturday to practice.

The captains were Jim Hadallar and Peggy Makemson led the team with spirit. Most improvement were Rich Peterson and Stephanie O'hara followed closely by Sherry Johnson. Both teams really did well considering that their teams population was cut in half. Working hard and staying together was their main goal that they reached.

Cheerleaders express pride

Rah, Rah, Rah . . . There's a a lot more to cheerleading than a pretty face. It's a lot of strenuous routines, leadership qualities, and discipline . . . To fulfill these requirements the cheerleaders have rugged turnouts almost every night where they pool resources to choreograph and practice routines. In addition they are enrolled in the leadership class and have occasional bake sales to raise money. All of the work pays off though. The cheerleaders represent Mariner with real class.

Hi-Q shows I.Q.

As the pressure builds, the Hi-Q team concentrates ... scanning names, dates, places, and events to find answers to baffling questions.

Team advisors for this year's Hi-Q team are Mrs. Hill and Mr. Orr. In October they conducted a fifty item test covering all twelve categories to filter out the representatives for Mariner. The final eight team members include Mike Malaska, Jennifer Hermes, Curtis Linderman, Lesley Lawson, Tim Clothier, Sean Shannon, Jenny Teeter and captain Wayne Heller.

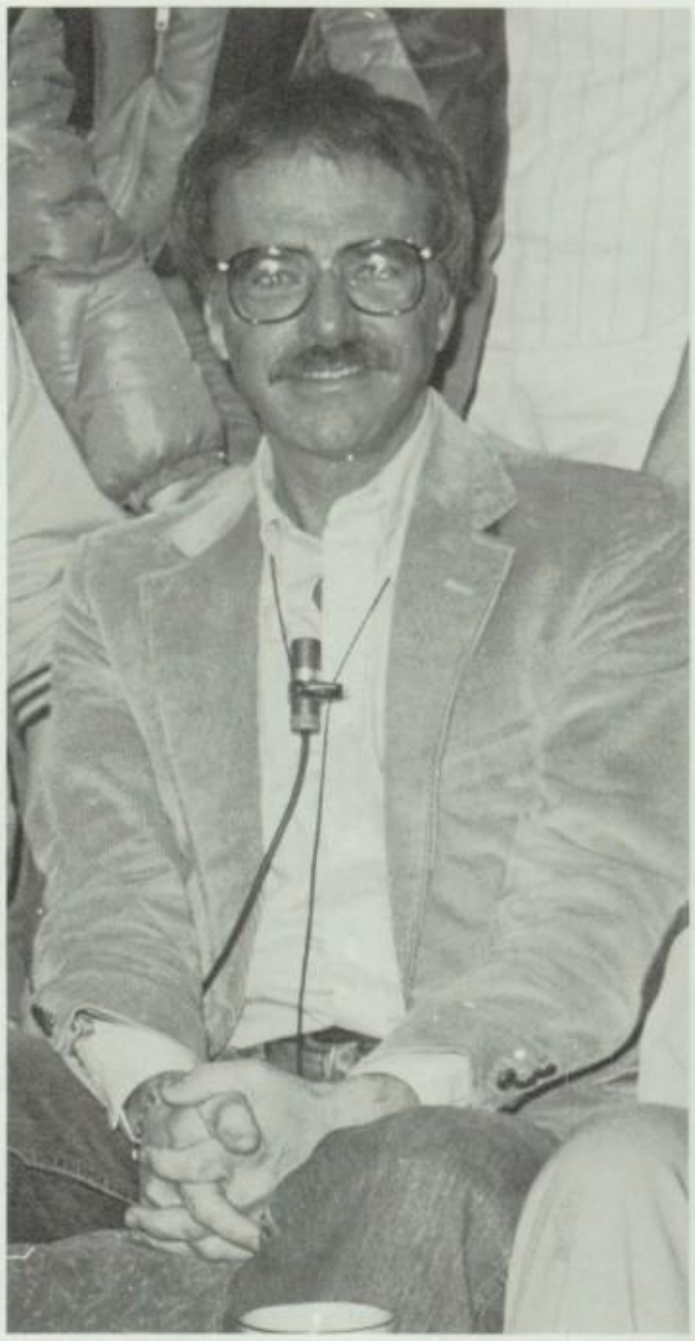
The team participated in three matches, doing extremely well in all of them. Concluding this season was a gratifying thirty-six point win over Marysville-Pilchuck and Sultan.

Dick Klinger visits Mariner

Dick Klinger, former host of "Seattle Tonight" spoke to Mariner television production students about interviewing and his own experiences.

Klinger was currently working on "How Come" and is developing two new shows with talk show format. Klinger also does many voice-overs for broadcast commercials.

Klinger was interviewed by Cheryl Clingman of "Starboard Tack." Finally, he critiqued interviews by students in the T.V. Productions class.



Huskies win again

The Iowa Hawkeyes were favored to upset the Huskies. But with the excellent coaching on Don James, the dogs smashed em'!

Players like Jacque Robinson, Steve Pelluer and Chuck Nelson (from Everett) made the victory possible. The Husky defense held the Hawkeyes scoreless. Then the dog's offense took over and four touchdowns were scored.

Freshman Jacque Robinson scored two TD's, and seniors Tim Cowan and Vince Coby each had one. The final? 28-0, Huskies! Good going dogs!

The egg stork visits

Egg babies? Ms. Kelliher's family classes all learned the responsibility of being a parent. The classes had to care for their eggs day and night for a week.

If the students wanted to go somewhere, they had to get a babysitter for it. The students certainly learned what it was like to be a parent.

Holidays bring in cheer

Like many traditions at Mariner, the Christmas spirit had once again filled the hearts of many students and faculty members. The student body began planning early for a full week of excitement.

At the beginning of the week decorations were starting to take shape. The Seniors worked hard decorating their personalized stockings and perfecting the school's Christmas tree. Lights were put up around the concourse and it was decorated with an old-fashioned scene.

The Juniors, who won the decorations contest, painted their windows to the theme of "Santa's Workshop." Santa's elves made toys, painted them, and gift wrapped them for delivery on Christmas Eve. On the other side of the Juniors hall the theme was "Christmas Around the World." There were little boy and girl figures from several different countries such as Italy, Sweden, Israel, and Japan. The Sophomore class decorated their halls with a little bit of everything.

As the week progressed, preparation for the first-graders of Fairmount and Olivia Park were put into their final stages. G.A.A. practiced hard for their traditional Christmas tour. Thanks to Miss Ricketts the "Muppet Show" was a complete success. During the show a special appearance was made by Mr. Mead and his famous Humazoo band.

When the first graders arrived, they were given a tour by the chaperones. Then they were taken to see Santa Claus, where they each received a gift. Then the whole student body watched the Christmas program, where canned foods collected from a drive, was donated to a food bank. Then a children's show took place. Many muppets like Big Bird, Kermit, and Miss Piggy made special appearances. After the Children's show, the first graders were escorted back to their buses, school was dismissed and it was officially vacation time!!

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Leadership class excels

A new class was formed this year to help the A.S.B. officers and cheerleaders learn more about leadership skills. The students learn skills in different areas, ranging from parliamentary procedure, to decision making, to public relations.

During the class time the A.S.B. officers have time to plan for student council meetings, and future events. The cheerleaders have time to plan pep assemblies, practice, and perform service projects for the school.

The newly formed class is instructed by Mr. Hunter.

Snow is plentiful.

Another depressing year for skiiers? Not this year! The local resorts all had about an average of 100 inches. It was a skier's dream.

During the season, Mariner's Ski Club took a trip to Whistler mountain in Canada. They spent three days skiing at the resort, which is 70 miles north of Vancouver.

The slopes are bringing in the biggest profit in decades because of the plentiful snow. Spring skiing should be great!

No school?

It was time to go back to school. Christmas vacation was over. Then it started snowing, hard! Maybe another vacation was in store. All the students listened to their radios to find out if school was open. All week long, students got to sleep in an extra hour. Except Tuesday school was cancelled. Yeah! But we have to make it up now.

Ski Club holds dance.

Ski Club held a 50's dance after the Cascade-Mariner basketball game on January 8th. The dance was to raise money for the club's ski trip to Canada. Students from Cascade and Mariner were invited to the dance. People wore poodle skirts, leather jackets, and saddle shoes. KRKO supplied the music.

MARINER HIGH SCHOOL

It's a matter of time

"It's a matter of time," was the theme for the Washington State Patrol safety assembly. The presentation stated the importance of wearing safety belts. The slide program showed two young people that were paralyzed because they failed to wear their seat belts. Vicki Salo, one of the two victims, came to Mariner to talk about her accident. She is a friend of Mr. Jon Evavold. Vicki stressed the importance of wearing seat belts and got the message across.

Students win again

For the second year in a row, the seniors defeated the faculty in a basketball game. Some players for the seniors were Dave Blackham, Kevin Daniels, Dale Green, Dave Lamey, Mark Kreutz, and Pat Luckovich. Some teachers playing were Mr. Hiemstra, Mr. Mead, Mr. Carr, Mr. Hunter, Mr. Evavold, and Ms. Simonson. The final score was students 60- faculty 52.

Walk for a cake

During lunch, the A.S.B. held a cakewalk. To walk, the students had to pay 25 cents. The cake walk was a fund raiser for A.S.B. purposes. All of the prize-cakes were donated by students. Some winners were Pat Luckovich and Lee Baker.

A week of festivities

March 8 through the 12 marked Foreign Language Week at Mariner. The purpose was to promote Foreign Language among students.

Activities included a French Bake Sale, a German Candy Sale, a German-Spanish luncheon, Lingograms, a spy game, and a mystery voice contest.

Ethnic costumes and numerous decorations and signs added to the cultural flavor of the week.

Salmon kills one

Don't eat the fish! . . . In the last week of February, 1982, it was discovered that all canned salmon with code number K13 contained possible contamination. It was reported that in Belgium someone died of Botulism. Although laboratory tests proved that public was advised to dispose of all possible infected cans. The contamination was thought to have been caused by a small hole on the top of some of the cans. Fortunately, because of early discovery of this defect, many people were saved from being poisoned.

Ninth Graders lack discipline

What's going on at Explorer? On December 21, 1981, the Everett Herals contained an article discussing Explorer School's discipline problems. Problems such as waste basket fires and firecrackers were of major concern to school officials. Some people feel that there was no discipline at all. Some teachers believed that this behavior was due to the fact that the ninth graders did not have upper classmen to set a good example. Another reason was possible the economic back grounds of many Explorer students. In February, 1982 new discipline rules were made. These rules for various offenses had punishments ranging from a verbal warning to a 90 day suspension. These new rules visibly improved Explorer's overall situation.

Problems in El Salvador

The tiny Central American country of El Salvador became consumed in revolutionary fire during the winter as the United States pondered what kind of military aid to offer the government forces.

El Salvador plagued by a falling economy and a wide split between the very rich and the very poor, was trying to put together an election process. However, rebels controlled nearly a third of the country by February.

At a February news conference, President Reagan said that military intervention by the U.S. was not being considered. However, U.S. policy was aimed at trying to stop alleged communist and Soviet Union influence in Central America.

AC-DC in Seattle

What's he doing with his clothes? On February 9, 10, and 11, 1982 AC-DC came to town. Being one of the more popular concerts of the year, three shows in the colloseum were completely sold out. All three shows opened with a huge bell lowering while the group played "Hell's Bells." Songs such as "Back in Black" and "For those about to rock, we salute you" followed. The high point, according to many people was when Angus Young did his famous "strip tease" act.

New schools dedicated

On Sunday, December 6, 1981, two new schools were dedicated to the Mukilteo School District. Mukilteo Elementary which is located behind Olympic View. The principal is Jack Anderson, a former Vice-Principal is Loren Jackson, a former principal for Olivia Park and Olympic View.

Winter play blooms

The winter play, "Where the Lilies Bloom", went over very well with the student body.

The play deals with four recently orphaned children and their new lot in life. Mary Call the headstrong brain of the group, has been left in charge of the family with her father's three last requests to fulfill. She was to keep the family together, stop the oldest sister, Devola, from marrying their slimy landlord, and never under any condition accept charity. "Where the Lilies Bloom" illustrates her attempts to keep these promises and her final submission to the circumstances.

The major roles were all well portrayed. Liesl Lehman did a nice job as the brainless Devola as did Dan Foss with his character, Romey. Michelle Ross put a lot of feeling into her performance as Mary Call and the gruff landlord, Kiser Pease, was played by Wayne Heller. Other cast members from Mariner included David Ames, Tony Anderson, Jennifer Hermes, Michelle Colvin, Jenny Teeter, Mike Richardson, and Beck Mostafavinassab

Full of enthusiasm and spirit is how Juniors began and finished out the year. Right away they began getting involved in many activities. They sold carnations during Homecoming and also sponsored the traditional Homecoming dance. They took first place in the spirit contest during that week. Christmas at Mariner was another spirit lifting time for Juniors, their Christmas around the work decorations in the upstairs concourse took first place in the decoration contest. We didn't hear much from Juniors during January, working on the dreaded conflict paper kept them all very busy. But they made it through keeping their spirits high and soon began busily making plans for the Junior-Senior Prom. Selling carnations before the Prom ffls another big success. Congratulations Juniors for making this year full of spirit and pride.

The sophomores #1 ? With the freshmen missing this year, the sophomores dominated the Christmas can food drive. The sophomores also had strong participation in Christmas at Mariner. A lot of funds were raised through numerous bake sales this year. At these bake sales, the sophomores introduced a new monster cookie. The cookie went over well with most people. The sophomores also sponsored the fall dance which went over well. Right away they began making plans for the Sadie Hawkins dance which turned out to be a big success.

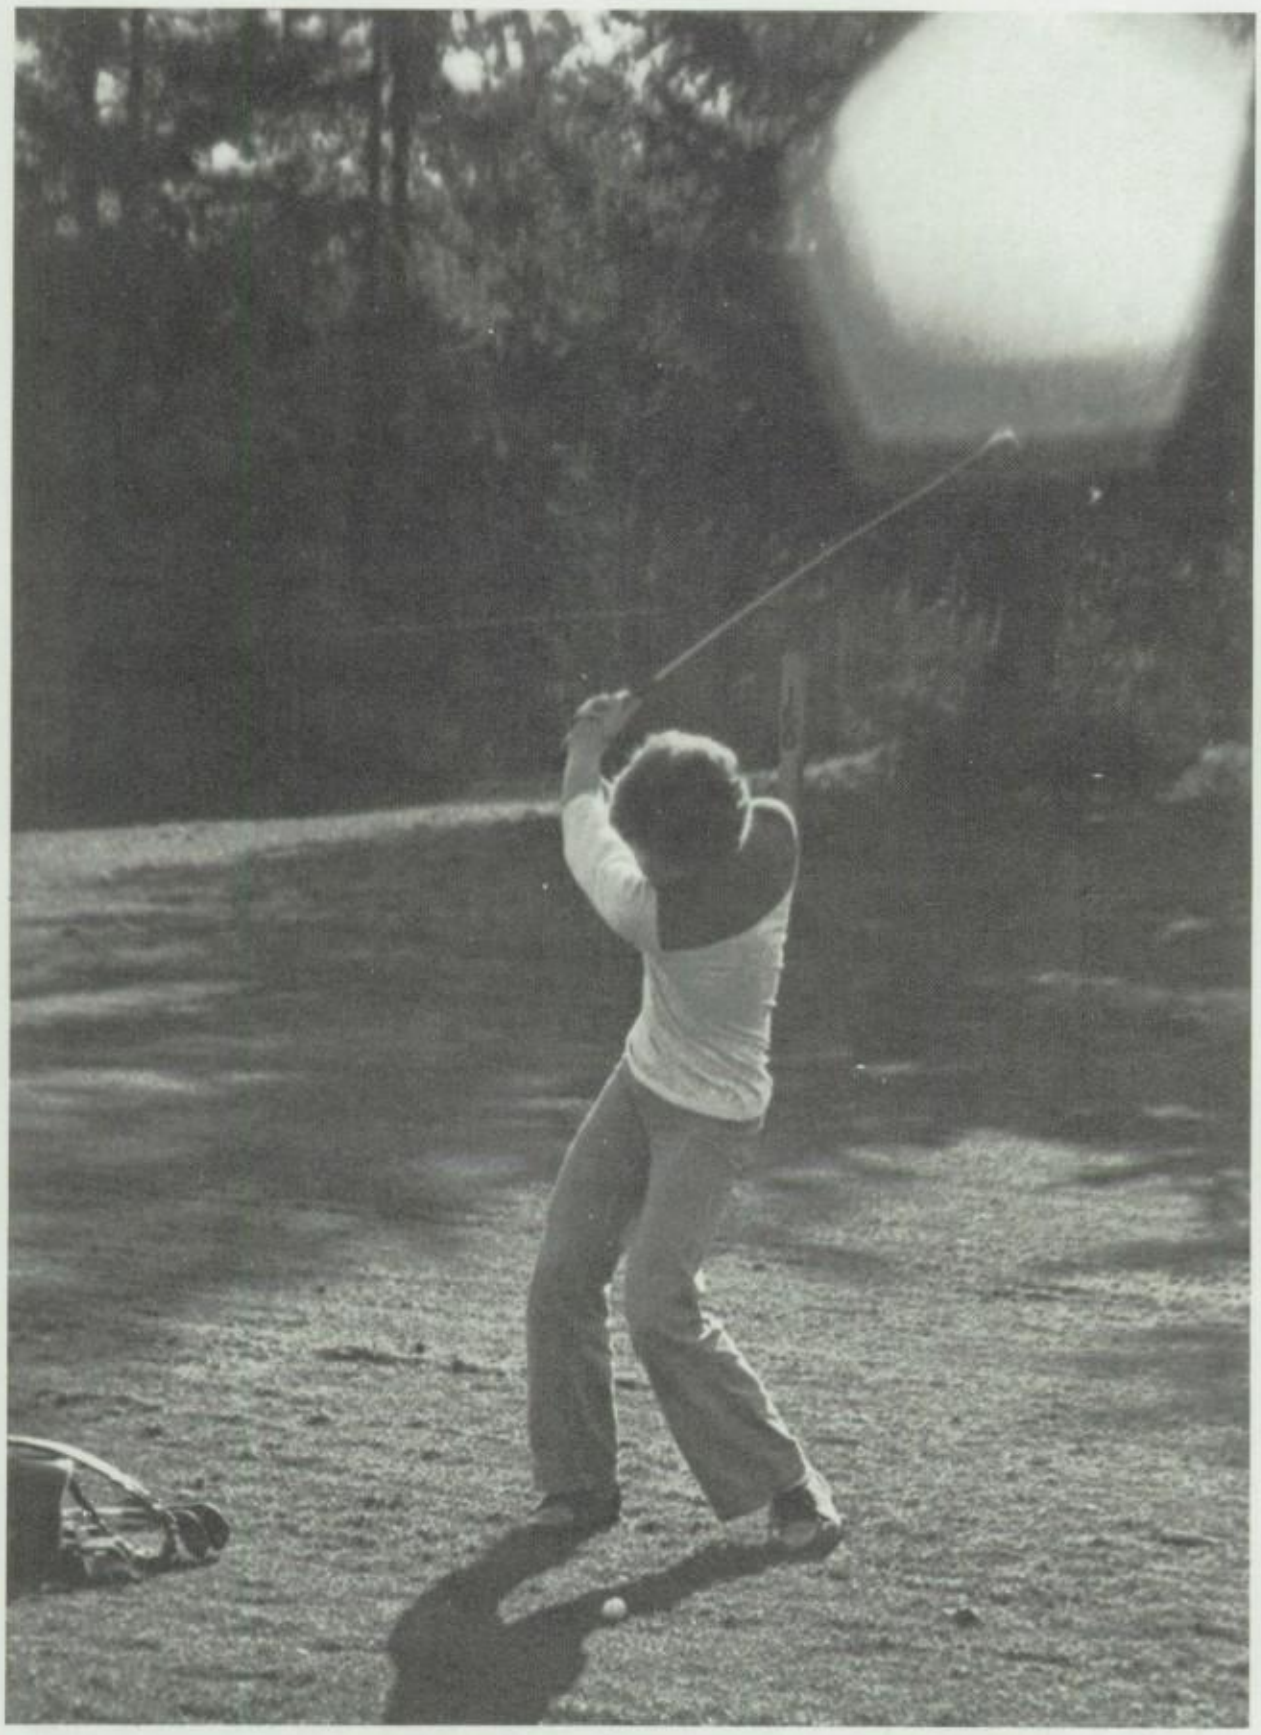
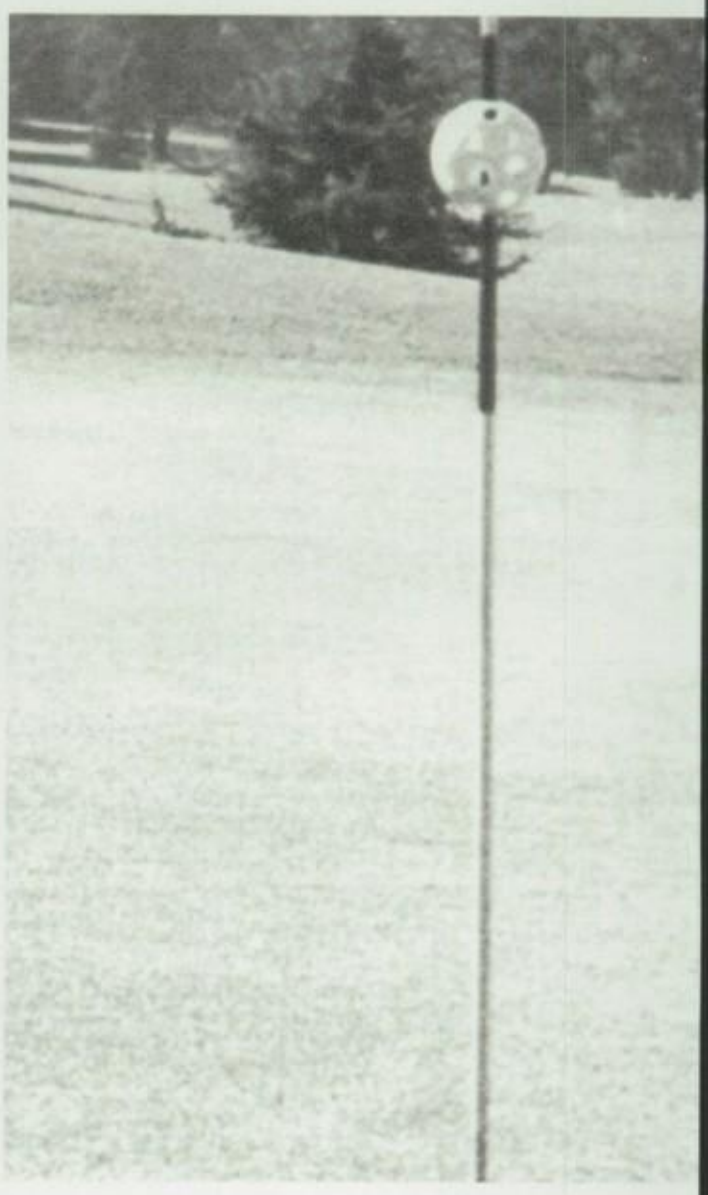
Golfers swing into action





This year's golf team, coached by Mr. Ryan, had a good season. "I think one of the reasons why we do so well is because of our enjoyment of the game," said captain Bruce Christy. "We're always having fun."

The boys started out with a win and that got everyone ready for the rest of the year. Coach Ryan said, "This year has been a real year of promise for us because of everyones effort to improve, and if everyone sticks together and works hard this will be a positive and rewarding season.

The captain this year was a two year veteran Bruce Christy, and recieving the honors for most improved were John Stupey, Mike Novick, and Bruce Christy.

Boy trackers lead the pack

This years 60 strong track team boasted many outstanding athletes with even more promising ones for future teams.

Though underclassmen provided the body of the team. Senior leadership was very strong with an uplifting word or a pat on the back where ever deserved. The team had endless amounts of spirit, optimism, and pride.

Coaches Price and Carr were towers of strength with encouragement, advice and true devotion for the team. Coach Price said, "I'm excited and I believe they are."

Even though hard turnouts they kept their spirits high. There was a smile for every pushup and always a wise remark for fellow girl trackers.

The season was a great success for both team and coach and the 1982 track team was a team that Mariner High School can be proud of.

Girls love spirited year

Girl's track team strives for perfection . . . enthusiasm and motivation created a winning atmosphere for the girls track team this year. Many high goals were set for this season, including; true competetiveness during dual meets and striving for at least fourth in Conference. Along with these goals they hoped to send three to four girls to State. The positive attitude the girls demonstrated during practice and meets, was the key to their personal satisfaction and team unity. Next years track team will feel a great loss with the departure of seniors; Karen Christy, Melinda Cleveland, Kim Corrigan, and Teresa Masonholder. They hope to be getting some excellant newcomers and there are many returning members for next year.

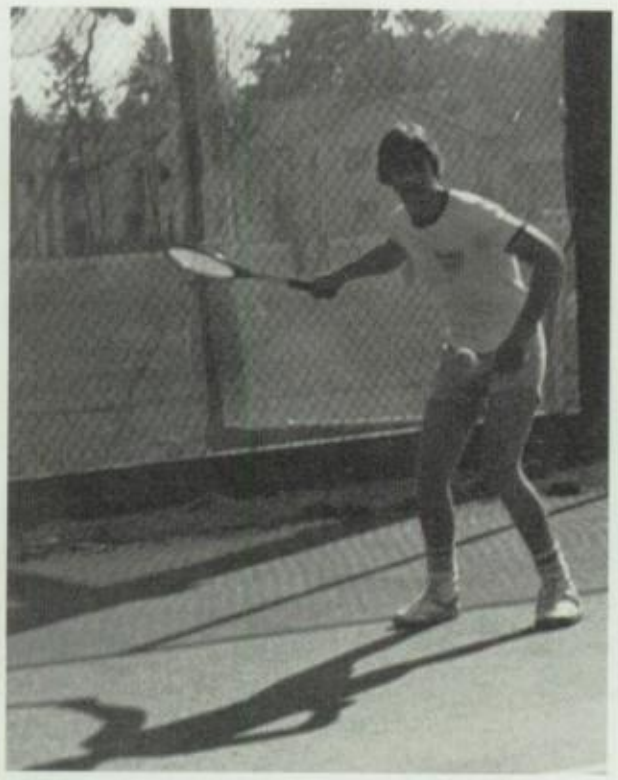
Boy's have potencial



We'd like to finish above 500 said Steve Mehan, junior. The teams record is 5-6 (season not completed) and will have a successful season if it keeps playing well.

"Our number one, two and three singles players (Tim Trosvig, Geoff Palmer and Steve Nickerson are our strongest part of the team," said Joe Willie, tennis coach. He feels if the team is going to have a successful season these three will have to play well for the remaining part of the season.

"The team was real close this year as Steve Mehan explained we got along really well and we tried to play as one," concluded Steve.

Soccer players achieve enthusiasm

The Varsity soccer team began the year with a 3 win 3 loss 1 tie with Lynwood record. Among their wins were two exciting victories over Snohomish, beating them 6-1 and 5-0. As the year progressed, varsity players improved their skills of working as a team. Captains were Rob Jones and Danny Machado. Outstanding players included Rob Jones, Ty Klesick, and Craig Beeson.

J.V Soccer had a great season, starting out with a 5 win 1 loss record. J.V. lost to Cascade which Coach Ardissono commented was the toughest team played for both J.V. and varsity. Among their wins J.V. had an exciting victory over Meadowdale beating them 3-0. Outstanding players included: Arnie Achtner, Ian Byrnes, and Tom Wolfe. Coach Ardissono said J.V. players have great potential for working as a team, next year should be a great year.

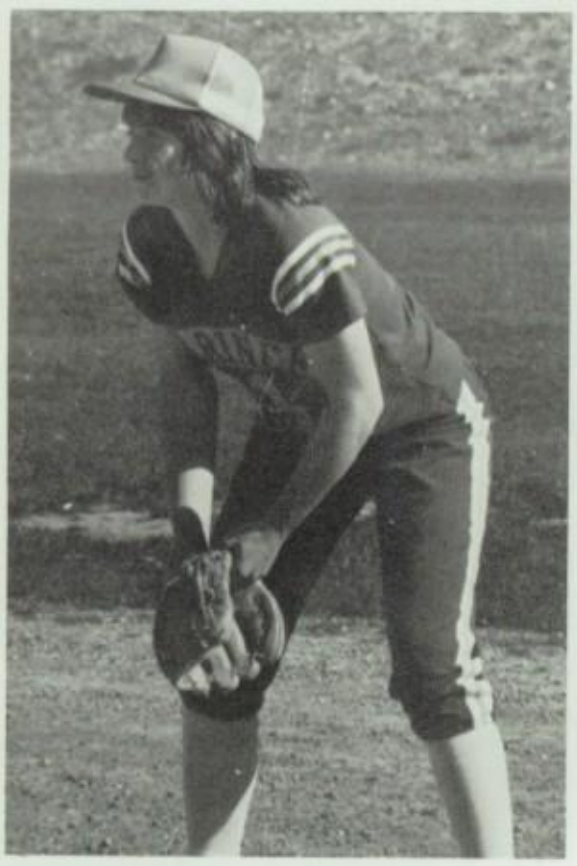
Softballers run towards goal



Hey batter batter! Hit, GO! All right, a home run! This year's Varsity Softball team really swung a hitting success with the help of the coach and lots of practice. A lot of improvement and dedication went into their games. Coach Thorstenson helped with the Varsity girls as Ms. Paula Martin coached the Junior Varsity with much enthusiasm that pulled the team together.

Junior Varsity team member Kathy Dowden said, "Next year we won't have anyone really new on the team who won't know how to work together as we do and I think this will improve our game if we practice."

Best team yet

"The boys team is really starting to come around," said Coach Herbert, "Every day that we go out for practice, everyone is psyched up and ready to go. Of course we have a few areas to improved in, and who doesn't, but all in all this has to be the best bunch of people I've ever coached."

This year's captain is senior Chris Davis who has played all but one year of baseball here at Mariner, and the most improved in coach Herberts opinion are either Mike Juosapitis or Tom Wilson.

s.a.i.l. strives for olympics

Each year Mariner's S.A.I.L. students participate in the Special Olympics. This unique program provides handicapped students with a guaranteed opportunity to be involved in a form of competitive sports. All students are eligible and participate to the best of their ability. "I feel good about myself and I feel like a champion," said Cheryl Stevens about winning.

This coming June they will be spending a fun-filled weekend at Ft. Lewis. Along with the track and field events the S.A.I.L. students will take part in a carnival, dance, and other exciting activities. When asked to share his favorite aspects of Special Olymipics Craig Waters said, "You meet new people and make new friends."

Students bake off

As the year rolled down to an end, the students of Home Ec. 120 classes competed in an apple pie baking contest to test their culinary skills. Each class had its own cook-off on March 8th and 9th, and the winners competed in the final bake-off Friday, March 12th.

The class finalists were Lyndsi Anthony, Cheryl Clingman, Jodi Enberg, Carol Flake, Tawny Hooks, Wanda Mc Kinley, and Lisa Smith. The bake-off winners were Carol Flake and Lisa Smith. Judging the Contest was Mr. Jack Campbell, Mrs. Jackie Fannin, and Mr. john Ruthford.

Students sew off

The spring sewing contest has become an annual event for Home Ec. students. The Bernina Sewing Contest, sponsored by Washington State Federated Womens' Club, was held March 25th. The judging was based on the dresses fit, appearance, appropiateness, and workmanship. Cash prizes were given to the top winners.

The top two went to the district contest held on April 8th. After districts the winners competed at the state level where sewing machines were awarded to the winners. The winners from Mariner were: 1st-Wendy Snow; 2nd-Karen Blair; 3rd-Cindy Ellis. The Womens' club served refreshments.

a prom to remember

As spring entered the air, so did words of the Junior-Senior Prom. The dinner-dance was held May 22nd at the Everett Pacific Hotel. The hotel was elegantly decorated in the colors of midnight blue and cream. The theme was "Moonlight Serenade." Like in the past, the prom was a special night to remember.

Successful Sale

Jeans, jeans, jeans . . . On Saturday April 24th, 1982, the Marauder Band held their "Trash and Treasure Sale" to help pay for their trip to California. The sale featured 2,000 pairs of new jeans and many other new items such as paintings, luggage, stuffed animals, paperback books, and much more. Also held was an auction, including two motorcycles and a picnic table. Several "five minute specials" were added to intrigue many shoppers. Perhaps two of the main attractions of the day were a visiting Seattle Seahawks player and a FREE car wash.

The band spent quite awhile preparing for their sale, which added to their excitement about their trip. Several band members appeared on the "Seattle Today" show to advertise. Sixty-five people plus fifteen color members planned on going to California. All in all, the band had a pretty exciting time in 1982.

Knights Dream

Moving towards a dream, the Winter Knights, Mariner's Color Guard competed in the"Dream Pageant" with fifteen other guards taking place in San Francisco, California on March 6-9. The contest provided good experience to the guard for future competitions. Although only fifteen guards competed, twenty were on exhibition.

The girls did well, placing in the top ten, led by co-captians Vicki Maddox and Shawna Bertram. Next year they hope to do even better. The Knights also accompanied the band to California in May.

Squaring the Circle

Squaring the Circle, the wonderfully funny Russian comedy was a big hit on Mariner's stage. It had a four day run with two matinees and two evening performances.

The show deals with four mixed matched communist youths during the Revolution. Through the course of the play the four get matters terribly confused but straighten things out and end up with the right partners.

The principle roles were played by Merrick Musolf, Alison Gates, Annette Agnew and Wayne Heller. All were very believeable in their protrayals and added tremendously to the productions as a whole. Other members of the cast should also be commended for a fine performance.

Drama helps rangers

Drama students busted for a party in the park? Not quite. They were performing a respectable community service and having fun at the same time. The acting students reenacted a part which was supposed to be in honor of a boy's 18th birthday.

Pairs of prospective park rangers came along and took what necessary actions they would take in a real life situation. The experience was fun but they were a little sick of partying after eight consecutive parties.

Thank you

The Voyager staff would like to thank all of those who have helped make this yearbook a success.

We would especially like to thank Herff Jones, printer of the annual. Burt Durham, the school representative, was helpful and patient with our problems. Shirley Coleman, in the plant, was also a great help.

The staff would also like to give a special thanks to Dave White who made sure we had the supplies and pictures we needed.

We would like to thank Gina Morrow for her fabulous artwork and her willingness to do it on the spur of the moment.

We would also like to thank all the teachers who put up with the inconveniences of letting staff members out of class to work on deadlines.

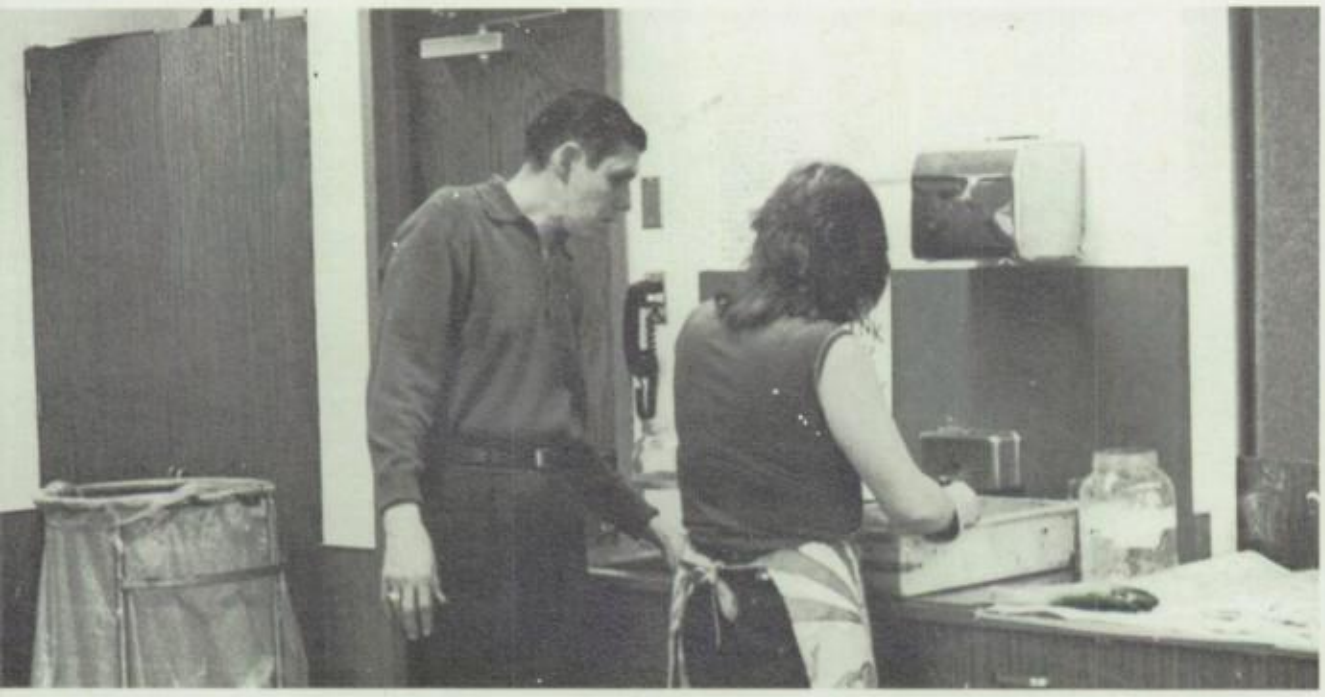
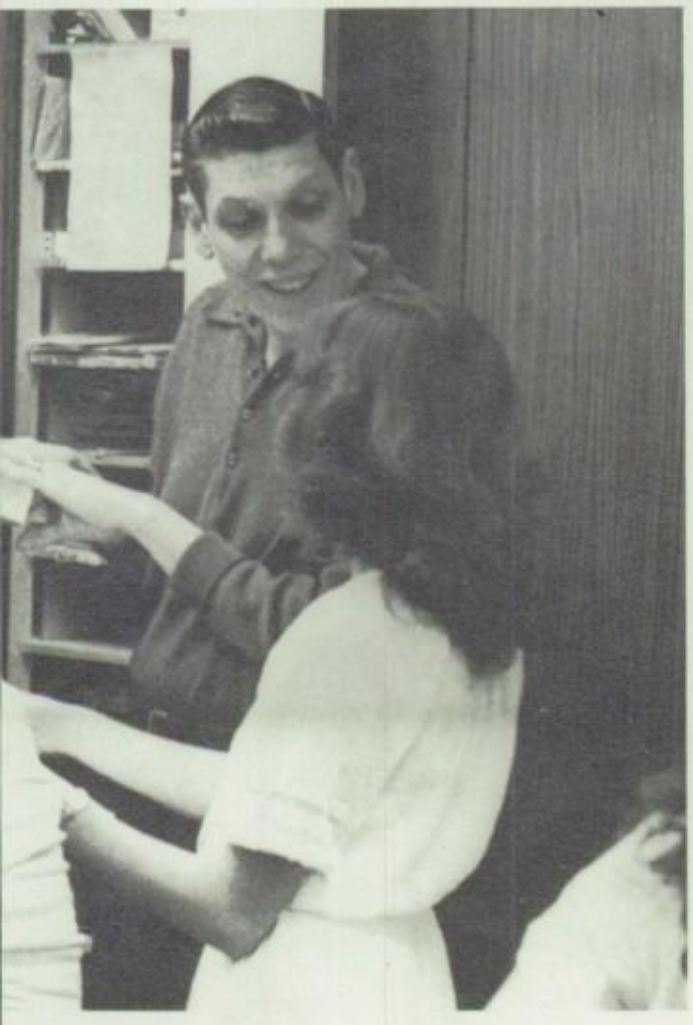
In the art division a special teacher instructs many artistic students, Mr. Kovacevich better known as Mr. "K". He takes time and care to help the students improve their artistic ability. Mr."K" has created an atmosphere that people enjoy to work in. The art room is decorated with projects the students have designed and produced. They can listen to music "quietly" and work at their pace.

On behalf of Mariner High School we would like to dedicate the Voyager 1982 to Mr. Rudy Kovacevich. thank you for your time and care you have put into Mariner.

Friendship is . . . the bond between people based on common love, understandings and attitudes.

Mr. "K"





Working together and accomplishing the 1982 Voyager was a long task. It took time, communication and friendship. This class has produce and made the yearbook a reality. To everyone who made this possible . . . Thank you!

Paula?
Hay, I hope
you have the best of times in the future.
You're a lot of fun
You have a lot of special quatities
Maybe I'll see you at a concert of Heavy Metal or something. Take care

Paula,
Im so glad I met you
this year! You're such a sweet person. I hope you can move out as fast as you can. You really deserve the best. We'll have to get together sometime this summer. I think I may be loosing my voice. I'm beginning to sound flat in my tones. Oh well, I try.
Anyway, you're a talented, wonderful person.
Im so glad were friends. I feel I've learned a little about life from just what you say. You are extremely different! Love ya

Dear Paula,
To one of the greatest persons I know; I wish you the best of luck at the U.W. and in life, your art talent is outstanding, and I know someday I will see you as a great artist. You've been a very special part of my Mariner life, thank you for being so caring and sweet to me.
Love ya'!
Love, Always

Paula
your a crazy and loose person and you might fall apart if you don't be carefull. anyway it was fun knowing you this year and hope you have a neat summer love Jenn 743-7264

Paula - it was fun talking to you in Art - your a super neat person and an intelligent person totalk too. it's fun to have friends like you around me. in ways your a little like my mom. I think you and Her (mom) would get along pretty well. anyway ~~dad~~ didn't want you to get any bad ideas about what I wrote before okay! you are a neat person - I do mean that!
call 743-7264
I want you to have a good - super good summer - thats an order!
Love Jenn

Paula:
Look at this! Oh yeah, on the same page as Dinnrad! Wow all together again - first life Functions! Yeah, we made it into that old "D & D" Group Book! Remember all those times, oh yeah, during class? Oh, anyway, that was fun. Have a neat out of class - oh yeah, well, Art. Actually, first Wednesday for me, I'm, uh, Stephanie's, uh, Stephanie's birthday. I'll see you Bryanne! Don't lose your change. We have to keep in touch while we're in College(s.)
Love always!
Jenn
